Border Clash Just Averted

Moscow Says Japanese Movements Delayed Chang-kufeng Armistice

Troops Withdrawn After Warning

MOSCOW (AP)—The Soviet government indicated today the carrying out of the Changkufeng armistice agreement had been delayed by new border difficulties which almost resulted in an armed clash shortly after the truce went into effect August 11.

The difficulties first were disclosed in a Soviet communique last night stating that a new outbreak of fighting on the disputed Siberian-Korean frontier had been narrowly averted when Japanese troops moved into advanced positions after the truce.

The troops were withdrawn, the announcement said, after Foreign Commissar Maxim Litvinoff warned the Japanese ambassador, Mamoru Shigemitsu, that "the U.S.S.R. will consider the armistice violated" if they were permitted to hold their new positions.

While Japanese compliance with Litvinoff's demand removed dangers of an immediate clash, the Soviet government was said still to be dissatisfied with the attitude of Japanese military representatives at Changkufeng.

The latter, according to the communique, refused to sign the armistice agreement and a map indicating the respective positions of troops, explaining that they "awaited instructions from the higher command."

(A Japanese war office announcement Saturday said military representatives of both sides had signed a memorandum pledging themselves to avoid further incidents in the area and that a map marking troop positions at the time the truce was declared was expected to be signed Saturday.)

SKEPTICISM

Skepticism as to Japanese intentions was expressed by the Soviet navy newspaper Red Navy, which asserted Japan had been preparing an attack on the Soviet Union for several years.

The newspaper said financial difficulties at home, poor crops in Manchukuo and other difficulties had prevented "completion" of the war preparations, but that the Japanese had nearly 400,000 men, 1,200 pieces of artillery, 650 tanks and 550 warplanes "ready for a war against the U.S.S.R."

Foreign military observers in Moscow were inclined to await developments of the next few weeks before deciding whether the Changkufeng truce was only a military truce in the narrow sense of the word or a beginning of better relations between Soviet Russia and Japan.

JAPAN'S VIEWPOINT

TOKIO (AP)—Domel (Japanese News Agency) said today Soviet Russian troops had violated the Changkufeng truce by constructing dugouts within the no-man's-land agreed upon when the border fighting was ended August 11.

The news agency said the Japanese had protested to General Shuter, chief of staff of the Far Eastern Red Army, and he had promised to enforce observance of the truce, but Soviet troops continued to build dugouts in the 180-yard wide neutral zone separating the Japanese and Russians along the four-mile front.

All Japanese troops had withdrawn the agreed 90 yards from the crest of Changkufeng Hill, Domel said.

A War Office communique said the main body of the Japanese border force now was concentrated near the southern bank of the Tumen River, where it would remain until evacuation of the Changkufeng area was completed.

Legal Experts Study By-law

Premier Pattullo said today the government's legal department has not finished its examination of the public utilities control by-law passed by Victoria City Council. Until the question of legality had been settled he could not pass any comment on the government's probable attitude toward the measure, he said.

Urges Law To Limit Profits

Toronto Manufacturer Wants Rational Minimum Wage Enforced

LAKE CHOUCHICHING, Ont. (CP)—Warren K. Cook, Toronto clothing manufacturer, was on record today as favoring a national minimum wage law for Canada and a law limiting industry's profits to 6 per cent on the "actual" investment, the balance of profits to be shared by the workers.

"All too many manufacturers and commercial organizations in Canada are not modern in their thinking," he told the seventh annual conference of the Canadian Institute of Economics and Politics here yesterday. "They live in the dark ages by adhering to the policy of paying as little wages as possible and getting as much as they can for them."

Labor disputes and radicalism "usually" have resulted from that policy, Mr. Cook said. Legislation enforcing a yearly minimum wage, effective throughout Canada, would benefit industry, relieve the worker of strain and worry and stimulate greater co-operation between worker and management.

A "basically unsound" philosophy had dominated industry during the last 20 years. Industry was passing into the control of financiers, "who have almost convinced us profits belong to the money involved—a fundamentally wrong idea."

"If laws confined profits to about 6 per cent on the actual investment—not in watered stock pumped in—the balance of the profits should be shared among the workers by the executive along the line," Mr. Cook suggested. "This would create immediate purchasing power and bring greater co-operation and satisfaction on all sides."

"In Australia, where a tariff board examines companies' balance sheets, a tariff cut is made without reduction in prices if the profit percentage is greater than 6. If that system were followed (in Canada), stock brokers would have to take off their coats and get back to their original intentions instead of selling stocks for gambling. Opportunities for young men would be opened up and industry would be controlled by those engaged in it and not by remote financial interests."

Too many organizations employ large staffs which necessitate periodical seasonal lay-offs for weeks and often months, Mr. Cook said.

VISCOUNT FINLAY REACHES COAST

VANCOUVER (CP)—Viscount Finlay of Nairn, judge of England's High Court of Justice, here to attend the annual meeting of the Canadian Bar Association, expressed surprise today at the "enormous tracts of unoccupied land" in Canada.

"I think I would be for filling them up," he said in an answer to a question as to what stand he took on the question of Empire emigration.

Lord Finlay arrived Sunday with his daughter, Rosalind. He is to address the bar convention Wednesday night.

THE WEATHER

VICTORIA, 5 a.m. today—Pressure remains high off the British Columbia coast where the weather has been mainly fair, but relatively low in the northeast. Cool showers with rain in the interior and some heavy rain is reported in Alberta and Saskatchewan.

FARMERS MUST BE FIGHTERS IN HOLY LAND—The day foreseen by the Hebrew prophet when his people would beat their swords into ploughshares and their spears into pruning-hooks has not yet come. Here are depicted Jewish farmers in the Holy Land who today have to till and reap their fields with the implements of peace at the same time as they have to guard their lives with the implements of war. They are going to their day's work with farm tools and rifles, prepared to defend themselves against attacks from Arabs.

Another Briton Killed

Spanish Insurgent Bomb Strikes British Ship in Valencia Harbor.

VALENCIA (CP-Havas)—One Briton was killed and two were injured when insurgent bombs hit three British ships at El Grao, the port of Valencia, and Alicante today.

The casualties occurred aboard the British vessels Hillfern and Fredavore when insurgent airmen blasted this city and its port in early morning raids. The wireless operator of the Hillfern was killed by bomb splinters and a British nonintervention observer aboard the Fredavore and the skipper of the latter craft were slightly injured.

Madrid reports said 60 bombs were dropped at Alicante. Six persons were injured when a heavy missile exploded in the Alicante jail, causing much damage.

Two persons were killed in a raid on Villa Joyosa, north of Alicante, and two others, both women, in an insurgent air attack on the village of Pinedo, near Valencia.

At 3.30 a.m. five insurgent airplanes bombed and damaged the British ship Neomijula in an attack on Alicante. The explosions opened a hole in the ship's hull. No casualties were reported aboard the ship.

Alicante's air defence batteries failed to bring down any craft.

The insurgent airmen who attacked Valencia and its harbor dropped about 100 explosives. One missile set fire to four buildings in the Pinedo quarter, killing a woman and her daughter.

Insurgent fliers attacked planes near Barcelona for the second time within as many days. The explosives caused damage to a manufacturing plant. The raiders also bombed the Blanes railway station and zooming low sprayed a passenger train with machine-gun fire.

Gunboat Sent To Investigate

Japanese Accused of Molesting British Captain on Yangtze River

SHANGHAI (AP)—New Anglo-Japanese friction arose today as British naval officials accused Japanese of discourtesy to the Union Jack and molesting a British tugboat captain.

Japanese officials said the incident caused the British to dispatch the gunboat Scarab to investigate the occurrence near Tungchow, at the mouth of the Yangtze River.

The British tugboat Victoria, under charter to a Japanese firm, was said by British naval officials to have been boarded by Japanese navy men, her captain trussed with a rope, and the vessel's Union Jack lowered unceremoniously.

A Japanese flag was run up in its stead.

Germans Plan World Flight

Brandenburg Completes Atlantic Round-trip Right on Schedule

BERLIN (AP)—The record round-trip flight to New York by the German airliner Brandenburg may be followed soon by a round-the-world flight.

An Air Ministry spokesman admitted another long distance flight was planned, but said "no information about it will be divulged in advance."

Air-General Erhard Milch, welcoming the fliers upon their arrival Sunday, said: "I have reason to believe Field Marshal Goering (Air Secretary) will place a fine machine at your disposal for further flights whenever you wish and wherever you wish."

An intimate friend, who had a long talk with the fliers, said they were trying to decide what to do next to demonstrate their plane's qualities but by no means had decided where or where to go.

The big plane landed at Tempelhof airfield at 9.57 a.m. (12.57 a.m. P.S.T.) after flying from Floyd Bennett Field in 19 hours and 55 minutes.

Its time was 5 hours and 50 minutes better than the only previous nonstop west-east crossing from New York to Berlin, made by the late Wiley Post in 1933.

The arrival home was five minutes ahead of the schedule the fliers mapped.

Searches Waste For $1,000 Stub

Mrs. Emily F. Nickson Hopes She Is Victoria Mrs. Nickson Winning Draw

Mrs. Emily F. Nickson, 804 Foul Bay Road, went hunting through her wastepaper basket this afternoon when the Times informed her that a Mrs. Nickson of Victoria, whose initials were not given, had won the third prize of $1,000 in the Dominion Rifle Association associate members' draw.

The results of the draw were made public at Ottawa today.

Mrs. Nickson, well known as a member of the Uplands Golf Club, is the only person of that spelling of the name listed in the Victoria city directory. There are several Nicksons.

"I bought a ticket. Then I heard nothing, so this morning I threw the stub in the waste basket," she said. "But I think I can find it."

"I hope you're right," she added.

"I can't tell you what I'm going to do with the money yet, because I'm not sure it's me. I haven't heard anything."

The first prize of $5,000 in the draw went to A. McKeever, Ed-

CANADIANS PAY TAXES PROMPTLY

Income Tax Collections for Four Months $19,714,794 Greater Than 1937 Period

OTTAWA (CP)—Canadians paid their income tax more promptly or they are getting larger taxable incomes this year than last, revenue statistics showed today.

Collections for the first four months of the current fiscal year, April to July inclusive, were $19,714,794 greater than for the same period in 1937.

Total collections for the four months were $106,170,181, as compared with $86,455,387 last year.

Charlottetown, Quebec and Saskatoon were the only districts to show collections in lower volume than a year ago. Toronto collections were up $7,000,000, Montreal $4,000,000 and Vancouver $2,000,000.

Would Affect Canada Wheat

U.S. Subsidy May Interfere With This Country's Marketing

OTTAWA (CP)—Should the United States subsidize the export of wheat it might be more difficult to market the Canadian crop at advantageous prices, it is believed here.

Official circles were unwilling to comment on a dispatch from Washington to the effect Agriculture Secretary Wallace was working on a proposal to market at least 100,000,000 bushels of wheat outside the United States by means of a subsidy.

In general, however, economists look for lower prices in the export market wherever a commodity aided by a subsidy is offered.

With an estimated crop of 300,000,000 bushels, Canada's surplus available for export this year may be close to 200,000,000 bushels.

The Canadian Wheat Board will pay farmers an initial price of 80 cents a bushel, basis No. 1 northern wheat at Fort William, for this year's crop. Should the board market its purchases at a lower price than that the loss would fall on the federal treasury.

Consequently anything which helps to lower the world price below 80 cents is of concern to the government and any action taken at Washington in connection with the export of United States wheat will be carefully studied here.

U.S. PROPOSAL

WASHINGTON (AP)—Agriculture Secretary Wallace is working on a proposal to place at least 100,000,000 bushels of surplus United States wheat in world markets by means of an export subsidy, informed officials said last night.

Moves of Reich Army Watched by Powers

Terrorism in Palestine

Twelve Lives Taken and Many Wounded in Week-end Clash Between Troops and Arab Rioters.

JERUSALEM (CP-Havas)—Conflict and terrorism swept the Holy Land during the week-end, taking at least 12 lives. Several score were wounded.

Seven Arabs were killed and many wounded in a clash between British troops and a large band of terrorists in the Ummekeh district. Arab sources said several British soldiers were killed or wounded, but confirmation was lacking.

At Bethlehem J. S. Howe of the Royal Engineers was murdered beside St. Eli's Church. An Arab policeman also was killed.

H.M.S. REPULSE THERE

JERUSALEM (CP-Havas)—H.M.S. Repulse left Haifa for an unknown destination today as terrorists injured five persons and kidnapped two others in a series of new attacks throughout the Holy Land.

Marines and sailors landed at Haifa from the battleship to aid local forces in maintaining order were called aboard last night. Soldiers of the West Kent Regiment took over the patrols assigned to the cruiser's landing force. Reason for the warship's departure was not immediately ascertained.

The wave of terrorism agitating Palestine was marked by renewed bold attacks at scattered points. A bomb exploded at Tellitvinski, injuring three Jews, one of them gravely.

Snipers wounded a man traveling in a bus along the Tel Aviv-Richonle Zion highway. At Tel Aviv a woman was injured when a bomb hidden in a basket of goods sold to a Jew by an Arab exploded.

Officials announced the barbed wire barrier along Palestine's northern frontier—designed to check the influx of terrorists—had been completed for 72 miles. Workers are constructing towers and police posts, equipped with searchlights, along the barrier.

Dr. Hebb Dies In Vancouver

Developed Accurate Method of Determining Sound Velocity

VANCOUVER (CP)—Dr. Thomas Carlisle Hebb, credited by physicists with having developed the most accurate method of determining sound velocity, died in hospital here Saturday. He was 59.

He was professor of physics at the University of British Columbia since 1918 and was head of the department since 1920. Born in Bridgewater, N.S., Dr. Hebb was a graduate of Dalhousie University, Halifax, with the class of 1900. In 1901, he won his master of arts degree from that university and in 1902 he received a bachelor of science degree. He made further studies at the University of Chicago, where he received a doctorate of philosophy.

It was at the University of Chicago he made his observations on the velocity of sound over a period of years. The method of measurement he developed and the figures he obtained have been quoted in various text books and used by engineers.

Hon. J. C. Gardiner Holidays Here

But Agriculture Minister Not Discussing Business

Hon. J. C. Gardiner, Canadian Minister of Agriculture, is making a prolonged visit to British Columbia but he is not discussing politics or government business.

Unannounced, he dropped in at the Legislative Buildings this morning and had a friendly chat with Premier Pattullo, Hon. K. C. MacDonald, B.C. Minister of Agriculture, and other members of the provincial cabinet.

He arrived in Victoria Saturday, accompanied by his wife and family and will be here a few days before returning to the mainland.

"The only reason I came west was to open the Vancouver Exhibition at the end of the month. In the meantime I'm having a holiday," he said.

He plans to go up the coast to Prince Rupert and will then visit J. G. Turgeon, member for Cariboo.

"Is that in connection with the proposal for British immigration to Central British Columbia?" Mr. Gardiner was asked.

"Oh, no," he replied.

"Is your visit in anticipation of a general election next year?" he was asked.

"No, really. I'm just holidaying. I came out to open the Vancouver fair, that's all," he said.

He intends, however, to visit the Experimental Farm at Saanichton tomorrow to review the work there.

RESERVES ARE CALLED OUT

Military Display Is Believed Intended to Impress Czechoslovakia

LONDON (CP)—Great Britain and France watched today with considerable concern the concentration of German reserve army units for fall manoeuvres close to the Czechoslovak and French frontiers.

The conclusion generally reached was that the military display, marking the first time since the Great War that reserves have been called to manoeuvres with the regular army, was intended to impress Czechoslovakia.

Official British spokesmen maintained the frank and open character of German manoeuvres and the "calm" atmosphere of the continent was reassuring.

They said there was no thought of questioning Germany's right to conduct whatever manoeuvres she wished or of being surprised that Hitler's military games were so thorough. A British military attaché is attending east Prussian manoeuvres, they added.

(A communique issued in Berlin stated General Victor Vullenin, chief of the general staff of the French Air Force, would arrive in Germany tomorrow to visit various "German military aviation centres and aeronautical plants.")

Windsor's Cattle To Be Auctioned

Duke, However, Will Continue Horses and Sheep at High River

CALGARY (CP)—The Duke of Windsor is going out of the cattle business on his 3,000-acre "E.P. ranch," near High River, Alta.

Announcement was made today by W. L. Carlyle, ranch manager, that the shorthorn herd of approximately 135 head, would be sold at auction September 30.

"I have received instructions that we are definitely going out of cattle raising but will continue with horses, sheep and ponies," said Mr. Carlyle.

When the ranch was taken over by the Duke of Windsor 20 years ago, a fine shorthorn herd was started. Much of the foundation stock came directly from royal estates in the Old Country.

Partition Is Step Closer

Woodhead Commission, Back From Palestine, Opens Sessions in London

By J. F. SANDERSON

Canadian Press Staff Writer LONDON (CP Cable)—The partition of Palestine into three separate states moved a step closer today when the royal commission under Sir John Woodhead started its sessions in London after three months in the troubled Holy Land.

The commission is expected to make a report by October when the government will announce its decision and any modifications of the rough outline of the partition plan recommended by the late Lord Peel.

The Woodhead commission was appointed to recommend detailed boundaries in the tripartite division proposed by Lord Peel. It also is examining financial and economic questions involved by the plan to divide the Holy Land into separate Jew and Arab states, with a British buffer state between.

When it was holding sessions in Palestine, Arabs boycotted the commission because they reject the whole principle of partition. No Arab evidence was expected at the London hearings either.

TRIPLETS BORN AT PORT ARTHUR

PORT ARTHUR, Ont. (CP)—The stork, particularly busy with individual deliveries in Port Arthur recently, brought two girls and a boy to the Archie H. Gibbons family yesterday. The triplets, born at the Port Arthur General Hospital, are described by attendants as healthy and normal in every way but for the next few days will be kept in an incubator.

Mr. Gibbons is a Dominion government grain inspector.

Nine Killed In Air Crash

Airliner Falls Into Rio de Janeiro Harbor After Delayed Take-off

RIO DE JANEIRO (AP)—Nine persons were killed when an airliner fell into the Rio de Janeiro harbor today shortly after taking off on a flight to northern Brazil.

Five of the victims were passengers and four were members of the crew. Their identities were not immediately available.

The transport, operated by Condor Syndicate, crashed near Ilha do Governador, an island in Rio de Janeiro Bay.

Cause of the crash was not known. Heavy fog had delayed the takeoff two hours.

None of the dead was a North American.

All the bodies were recovered by fishermen except that of Jose Urubupina, the pilot, a Brazilian who recently visited Germany to take a special flying course.

Syndicate Condor is an affiliate of the German Lufthansa system.

Exchange Plan Is Accepted

British Commission to Mediate Transfer of Prisoners in Spain

LONDON (AP)—The opposing sides in Spain today accepted a three-man British commission to mediate an exchange of prisoners.

The commission will go to Toulouse, France, and begin functioning probably by the end of the month.

It is composed of Field Marshal Sir Philip Chetwode, chairman; H. C. Dick and Col. R. A. Hay. They will work through two liaison officers, D. Richard Cowan at Barcelona and Lieut. Col. W. H. Mosely at Burgos.

Their work will cover all classes of persons detained in Spain, including political and military prisoners as well as any person unable to leave the country for lack of credentials.

It was stipulated, however, the commission must limit itself to cases brought up by the two regimes and may not examine appeals from outsiders.

Cancer Researches Reported at Zurich

Physiologists in International Congress Tell of New Developments

Copyright, 1938

ZURICH—Cancer and its causes are up for discussion at the meeting of the Sixteenth International Physiological Congress, which opened here this morning. While politicians and military leaders of all the quarrelling nations eye each other suspiciously and work at cross purposes, scientists from the same lands gather here in this mountain city above the shadows of the war clouds to form a united front against a grim common enemy.

A prominent participant in today's discussion was Dr. M. J. Shear, of the U.S. Public Health Service and Harvard Medical School, who told of his researches on cancer-causing derivatives of the chemical known as benzothiazene. The compounds on which he worked are not known from ordinary, spontaneous cancers, but they do appear to have significance in forms of the disease produced by contact with greasy, sooty, or fatty substances, such as occur in certain industries.

Something in crude ether-extracted wheat germ oil, possibly a chemical relative of the same cancer-causing hydrocarbons studied by Dr. Shear, has been found guilty of producing malignant tumors in rats, it was reported by Dr. Leonard Rowntree of the Philadelphia Institute of Medical Research. Dr. Rowntree worked in collaboration with Drs. A. Steinberg and W. R. Brown.

Wheat germ oil figures importantly in present-day therapy because it is a rich source of vitamin E, the fertility vitamin; but the cancer-producing part of the oil is not a vitamin, Dr. Rowntree stated. This discovery means that scientists must search more deeply into the possibility of diet's playing a part in causing certain types of cancer.

NEW-FOUND EYE FUNCTION

From the city where King David once sang "I Will Lift Up Mine Eyes Unto the Hills," comes a new word about eyes—this time scientific instead of poetic. Despite all the research that has been expended on the eyes, it has been possible for Prof. S. Krauss of the Hebrew University at Jerusalem to find a hitherto unknown function for the organ of sight. The minute sensitive rods that crowd the retina, he said, have as part of their job the perception of brightness-differences in the "medium," or general background, of objects that we look at. Prof. Krauss is giving a demonstration of his discovery this afternoon and tomorrow morning.

BLOOD SUPPLY REGULATED
Muscles and other working parts of the body can increase or diminish the blood supply they receive according to their needs from moment to moment, quite as accurately as a householder can turn the water supply on or off. A description of the mechanism of blood supply control was presented by Prof. H. Bein of the University of Göttingen. Key to the situation is the presence of waste products of muscular activity, particularly carbon dioxide. Increase in its local concentration results in wider opening of the blood vessels, permitting more blood to reach the spot where it is needed.

Britain-Canada Air Line Urged

LONDON (CP-Havas)—The Daily Herald (Labor) called on the Air Ministry and Imperial Airways, in an editorial today, to do everything possible to bring about a regular trans-Atlantic plane service with its western terminus in Canada.

Commenting on the record crossing of the liner Queen Mary Sunday and the New York-Berlin flight of the Brandenburg, the Herald remarked: "The achievement of (liner) speed for its own sake on the Atlantic crossing is no longer worth the candle," as the airplane in one day covered far more distance than did the liner in three.

"Americans, pioneers in the Pacific, are less prepared than either of the two European countries for Atlantic flights," the paper continued. "Until they are ready, no service can begin for them. They have laid it down that any service to the United States must be reciprocal. That is no barrier to provision of a British service, for its western end could be in Canada."

"The British people all over the world would like to see such a service. It is up to the Air Ministry and the Imperial Airways to do the best they can to make it possible."

Shawnigan Gala Day Successful

Parade and Sports Attract Many at Island Resort

SHAWNIGAN LAKE—The Shawnigan Lake Gala Day, held Saturday afternoon on the sports field, proved to be one of the most successful ever staged and attracted a large attendance.

The parade was marshaled by H. E. Hawkins and was led by the Ward Family Band. The procession followed a route through the village and circled the sports field. The following prizes were awarded by the judges: Best float, "Rainbow Review," entered by the S.L.A.A.; second, "Snow White and the Seven Dwarfs," entered by the Junior Dramatic Club.

The best decorated car prize was won by "Miss Cliffside," an entry from the Cliffside district; second, H. Collings and G. Galt, "Dream Cottage," and Mrs. A. Layton, "Hunting Lodge." Best advertising float was the one entered by the Shawnigan Beach Hotel. In other adult and junior sections the following were awarded prizes: Best comic, C. Scott, a clown; best decorated bicycle for adults, Nita Luckovitch; best decorated bicycle for children, first, Muriel Sam; second, A. Aitken. Best home-made costume, first, Patsy Gannon; second, Carol Dyson. Best doll buggy prize was won by Beverly Aitken. George Powell, dressed as a peasant girl, won the national costume prize. Jean and Donald Joyce were the best couple in fancy dress costumes.

Jack Gibson won the prize for the most original entry and A. Powell was second. Evelyn Eddel took first prize for the best saddle horse. Priscilla Grace was second.

The afternoon was taken up with field sports for all ages. During the pole vault, Pat Robertson had the misfortune to fracture two bones in his left arm. He was attended by Dr. George Moore.

A softball game was played between the Victoria Longshoremen and Burns yesterday for a perpetual cup. The Longshoremen won 17 to 7.

Saturday's program was brought to a close with a dance in the Agricultural Hall.

Lord Stanley To Visit Canada

Grandson of Former Governor-General to Open Toronto Exhibition

By J. F. SANDERSON
Canadian Press Staff Writer
LONDON (CP-Cable)—Lord Stanley will leave tomorrow for a six-weeks' trip to Canada and Newfoundland to open the Canadian National Exhibition at Toronto and to take up a new hobby—fishing.

Before leaving, the Dominions secretary gave the opinion that it was not necessary to change the system of communications between Whitehall and the Dominions. Australian officials have suggested the method needs revision.

Lord Stanley said the prime ministers of the various Dominions were informed fully of developments. "There is nothing that happens here that they do not know about," he affirmed. "They are kept fully informed of every development in the foreign field."

This will be Lord Stanley's first trip to Canada, although his family has had long associations with the Dominion. His grandfather, Lord Stanley of Preston, was Governor-General from 1888 to 1893 and opened the Toronto exhibition 50 years ago.

Lord Stanley will land at Quebec, August 23, and will go to Ottawa to see Prime Minister Mackenzie King before going to Toronto. After his stay there he will spend two weeks at Winnipeg, Banff and Jasper Park, leaving for the east September 16.

The Dominions secretary hurt his leg several days ago so he cannot ride, shoot or climb mountains. He is taking up fishing as a hobby for the first time.

On September 20 he plans to fly from Montreal to Newfoundland with a stop off at Halifax, where he will attend a luncheon and make a speech. He will spend a week inspecting the ancient colony, now administered by a commission of government. He intends to study Empire flying facilities at Botwood, Nfld., and Montreal before sailing from Montreal, September 30.

The journey has no political slant, he stressed. While in Ottawa Lord Stanley intends to discuss the latest developments of foreign policy and defence with Mr. Mackenzie King, but only in the nature of personal reporting.

Students Injured In Mountain Fall

SEATTLE, Wash. (AP)—Two University of Washington students, who fell 150 feet down a steep mountainside in the Cascades yesterday, were carried over trails on stretchers to a highway and rushed to a hospital here.

Examination showed Jack Benjamin, 21, sustained a fracture of his right arm and severe cuts, while Cameron Smith, 20, suffered a broken left wrist and a possible leg fracture.

The accident occurred as the two youths were climbing a tall rock chimney about four miles north of Snoqualmie summit.

MOVES OF REICH IS WATCHED BY POWERS

announcing regular postal department bus lines, connecting stations with lakes and other vacation spots, has been discontinued "temporarily."

Rumors current among the rural population said the buses were requisitioned by the military authorities for the fall games.

It was believed the army planned to depend chiefly upon motor vehicles as its means of transportation, trying to avoid commandeering of railways and to permit movement on a wartime basis in unfamiliar territory.

(Europe's concern was that the manoeuvres were to be close to the frontier and that some incident might provoke a conflict with Czechoslovakia. Relations of the two nations already are strained by Nazi sympathy for the autonomy demands of the Sudeten German minority in Czechoslovakia.)

Today's manoeuvres were preliminary to so-called district war games, which will be held in practically every section of the country starting about September 1. The Boerszeitung, an authority on German military technique, has explained this type of war games was chosen in preference to one mass array "to test the efficacy of forces fighting in war-time formations and of the services behind the lines."

ACCEPTS ASSURANCES

PRAHA, Czechoslovakia (CP)—Authoritative circles today indicated the Czechoslovak government was willing to accept German assurances to Great Britain and France that Germany's fall war manoeuvres were not aggressive.

These sources indicated such assurances have been given and apparently were acceptable to London and Paris.

Praha officials therefore determined not to worry any more than the French and British concerning Germany's extensive concentration of reserves for autumn war games.

A regular meeting of Czechoslovakia's supreme war council tomorrow will have no unusual significance, they asserted. Viscount Runciman, unofficial British adviser, spent the week-end in the heart of the Sudeten area.

Invasion Of Rights, Hepburn

Ontario Premier Comments on Income Tax Act Amendments

ST. THOMAS, Ont. (CP)—Premier Mitchell Hepburn today called two amendments to the Income Tax Act passed at the last session of Parliament in respect to gifts and stock trading companies "a further invasion of the provincial field of taxation and a further handicap in the development of our mining industry."

Replying to a statement of Hon. J. L. Isley, Minister of National Revenue and Acting Finance Minister, that the amendments were for the purpose of checking tax evasion, the Ontario Premier said: "No matter what Mr. Isley may say in an attempt to defend the action of the federal government in imposing these new taxes, they constitute an infringement of revenues in the direct taxation field of the provinces."

Mr. Hepburn last week notified Prime Minister King that the Ontario government will not take part in further Rowell commission deliberations. He gave as his reason for withdrawal the two amendments to the Income Tax Act, and said it had been agreed that no new taxes would be imposed by the federal government during commission sittings.

Policy Racket Trial Begins

New York Tammany Leader Says Conspiracy Prosecution Is Political

NEW YORK (AP)—With the assertion: "This is a political battle," James J. Hines, Tammany district leader, went to trial today on conspiracy charges growing out of a $100,000,000 policy racket.

"This is not the first political battle I have been in," said the 61-year-old politician, as he awaited the selection of a jury from a special panel of 300 veniremen. "I am going to win this battle, too. I can't lose."

"I cannot be convicted on the testimony of a bunch of squealers." Of Thomas Dewey, the New York district attorney who brought him to trial, Hines merely said: "He is a young man with a duty to do."

Dewey will attempt to show that a partnership existed between Hines and the slain Dutch Schultz's Harlem numbers ring.

Staked on the outcome of the trial, most spectacular semi-political case here in 25 years or more, are two careers—those of both the young prosecutor, who has never lost a racket case, and Hines, veteran of a rough-and-tumble campaigning era.

Also dependent on the jury's verdict, to a degree, is the future of Tammany Hall itself.

Conviction of Hines, a symbol of Tammany tactics, might mean the governorship—or even the presidency some day—for Dewey, white hope of New York's Republicans.

New Rains Delay Harvest in Alberta

EDMONTON (CP)—Delaying harvesting an additional few days and making many dirt roads muddy, rains ranging from light showers to heavy downpours fell over the week-end on Alberta crop lands from the international border to the Peace River block.

Farmers hoping for sunny weather so cutting of grain could start appeared doomed to disappointment today as the official weather forecast said "cloudy and cool with showers in many districts."

No hail damage was reported in Alberta in the week-end downpours.

The fastest clipper ships sailed from New York to San Francisco around the Horn in 89 days.

Yachtsman Saves 4 From Drowning

VANCOUVER (CP)—Howard Rogers was credited today with having saved two men and two women from drowning at Horseshoe Bay, nearby summer resort, late Saturday.

The four, Lorraine Akert, Kathleen Chettwynd, Joseph Kelly and Howard Morris, all of Vancouver, were dumped into the water 1 1/4 miles offshore when their small sailboat capsized. Rogers effected the rescue in his power yacht.

U.S. Navy May Seek More Men

WASHINGTON (AP)—Charles Edison, Assistant Secretary of the Navy, said today the navy might ask the next United States Congress to authorize a "modest increase of 2,000 to 3,000 men" in its enlisted strength.

More men will be needed, he said, to man the new vessels being constructed under the naval expansion program.

Evasion Check Tax Change Aim

OTTAWA (CP)—Amendments to the Income Tax Act passed at the last session of Parliament in respect of gifts and stock trading companies were for the sole purpose of checking tax evasion and constitute no increase in taxation, no taxation of capital gains and no discrimination against the mining industry, Hon. J. L. Isley, Minister of National Revenue and acting Minister of Finance, said in a statement issued last night.

The minister was replying to criticism of the amendments recently made by Premier Mitchell Hepburn of Ontario and certain mining interests.

In order to clear up misunderstanding as to the application of the new provisions to mining enterprises, he said, representatives of the industry would be invited to confer with C. Fraser Elliott, income tax commissioner, on the drafting of explanatory departmental rulings.

Mr. Isley said Premier Hepburn's charge the amendments constituted an affront to the Rowell Commission was beyond his comprehension. The commission was a fact-finding body investigating the financial relations between the Dominion and the provinces. It was hoped its report would show a way to the solution of the financial difficulties with which certain provinces had been confronted in recent years.

EXPECT 330 M.P.H. NEW SPEED MARK
Eyston and Cobb Making Ready on Salt Flats to Break All Records

WASHINGTON—A new speed record in the neighborhood of 330 miles an hour or slightly more should result from the efforts of Capt. G. E. T. Eyston and John Cobb, each driving a specially designed automobile, to crack the 311-mile-an-hour record now held by Capt. Eyston, T. E. Allen, head of the American Automobile Association's contest board, declared here.

Both cars, now being tuned up out on Bonneville Salt Flats in Utah and both awaiting improved weather, have been designed to exceed the existing record by 10 per cent, Mr. Allen declared. If they actually reach the figure for which they were planned, the new record will be over 342 miles an hour, slightly more than a hundred miles less than the present air record.

A major factor keeping down the speed at which the expensive thunderbolts roar across the 14 miles of the Bonneville flats is insufficient distance for acceleration, he declared. If they had more miles in which to bring their heavy racers to full speed, records considerably in excess of the present 300-mile-an-hour range might well be set.

Auto speed marks have been pushed steadily upward during recent years because, among other things, designers of the high-powered chariots have been able to draw upon the aviation industry for engines of high output that otherwise might have had to be developed specially for record-smashing. The prior existence of engines which could be adapted to pursuing the fleeting land speed record has brought the cost of construction of the racers within limits such that there are sportsmen able and willing to pay for them.

Both Capt. Eyston's and Cobb's cars are airplane engine powered. Capt. Eyston's car is driven by two 12-cylinder Rolls Royce engines capable of delivering 3,200 horsepower. Two 12-cylinder Napier power plants which deliver 2,500 horsepower drive Cobb's somewhat lighter car.

The automobile industry generally derives indirect benefit from such assaults on the record and more particularly from regular automobile racing through the opportunity to test materials under unusually severe conditions. Duplication of such conditions is not possible otherwise without the expenditure of considerable sums of money, Mr. Allen pointed out.

Because of the shortness of the best available surface for speed trials, the famous Bonneville Flats, speedy acceleration of the racing cars is a major design factor.

The chief danger to the lives of the men at the wheels of the cars is in stopping, the AAA official asserted, for it is then that the most can go wrong with the worst consequences. He mentioned as one particular knotty problem the construction of tires able to stand the strain not only of running on full throttle, but of stopping. The finish of a run is approximately three times as dangerous as the start, he said.

Sir Landon Ronald Passes in London

LONDON (AP)—Sir Landon Ronald, 65, one of England's most celebrated musicians, died yesterday after a long illness. Sir Landon conducted grand opera at Covent Garden when only 21 and was knighted by King George V for services to British music in 1922.

He gained prominence as accompanist to Mme. Nellie Melba, the Australian prima donna, with whom he went to the United States as conductor in 1894.

Sir Landon was a pianist, composer, conductor, critic and teacher of music. He had been principal of the Guildhall School of Music in London from 1910 until illness forced him to retire last year.

During the reigns of Queen Victoria and King Edward VII, Sir Landon was accompanist at brilliant state concerts and played in Buckingham Palace for royalty.

He made his debut as solo pianist in a musical play without words, "L'Enfant Prodiges," and was engaged by Sir Augustus Harris as conductor at Covent Garden Theatre in 1891.

Later he was conductor at the Albert Hall Sunday concerts and of the new symphony orchestra concerts, the London Philharmonic Society, the Birmingham Promenade concerts, Manchester Hall concerts, Liverpool Philharmonic concerts and others.

He served as music editor of several London newspapers, and periodicals and wrote about 300 songs.

Communism In Hollywood Seen

WASHINGTON (AP)—Some Hollywood celebrities are using their large salaries to finance Communist activities, a congressional investigator reported yesterday to the special committee of the United States House of Representatives studying un-American activities.

Edward Sullivan, the investigator, said evidence tended to show "all phases of radical and Communist activities are rampant among studios of Hollywood."

"I might say in passing," he added, "that a very large number of motion picture stars are strongly opposed to all this subversive activity, but as one very prominent star told me, if he spoke out loud about the situation he would soon be ditched by the studios and a campaign of vilification would be started against him to ruin him with his public."

Sullivan named none of the persons he accused in the film colony, but declared the public should be informed of their identities.

Sullivan charged Harry Bridges, a Committee for Industrial Organization labor leader on the Pacific Coast, "received aid and advice from officials of the Labor Department while patriotic citizens were trying to have him deported for his Communist activities."

The investigator said he could produce witnesses "who can name the day and date when an official of the immigration service contacted Harry Bridges and called him to his office, where he read him a confidential letter of instructions on his future behavior, written by an outstanding official of the Labor Department."

"Terrorism, ranging from crop sabotage and kidnapping to murder, are but a few results of examining the evidence offered by the agricultural, industrial and shipping interests on the Pacific Coast," he reported.

Two Rescued In Vancouver Blaze

VANCOUVER (CP)—Two men were rescued last night from a second-story window ledge where they sought safety when fire trapped them in their downtown apartment.

Bert McGee and an unidentified acquaintance were taken from the ledge by firemen who answered an alarm to a West Hastings Street building. Other firemen entered the smoke-filled apartment and brought out McGee's dog.

The fire, of unknown origin, broke out in a beauty parlor located on the second floor of the building and near McGee's suite. No estimate of damage was available.

Airplanes are being used in the Soviet Arctic to locate seals and whales for industrial expeditions.

Shingle Mill Is Destroyed By Fire

VANCOUVER (CP)—A spectacular early morning fire destroyed the Bush and Miller Shingle Mill on Lulu Island in nearby Richmond municipality and caused damage estimated at approximately $40,000. Company officials failed to disclose whether the loss was covered by insurance.

Believed to have started in a pile of bark near the mill, the blaze whipped through the mill proper and dry kilns, destroying a quantity of prepared lumber. The smoldering blaze was watched by firemen all day to prevent its spread to nearby stores and bush.

A gasoline explosion was averted when firemen poured water on an adjoining service station which was threatened by the sudden outbreak. No one was injured.

Equipment from a Vancouver fire hall was dispatched to the outbreak to aid Richmond units.

Jenny Morris To Tour Canada

SOUTHAMPTON (CP)—Jenny Morris, "London mother" of the famed Princess Patricia Canadian Light Infantry, sailed aboard the Ansonia Saturday to visit Canada and the soldiers she befriended during the Great War.

In many parts of Canada, meantime, former members of the Princess Pats dug into their pockets to provide money for the trip—their expression of gratitude for the London home she turned into a hostel for them.

Overjoyed at the prospect of a visit she long dreamed of making, Jenny Morris said:

"I am beyond expressing thanks for this wonderful gift from my former laddies. I'll never be able to say what is in my heart and I regret I am not worthy of such an honor."

Jenny Morris was the "London mother" to every member of the Princess Pats. When in London they were always welcome at her Bedford Square home. Since the Armistice she has kept in touch with her "boys," writing more than 1,300 letters annually.

F. J. Burns Is New President

VANCOUVER (CP)—F. J. Burns, publisher of the Advertiser, Kentville, N.S., Saturday was elected president of Canadian Weekly Newspapers Association, in convention here. Retiring president is George W. W. James of Bowmanville, Ont.

Other officers elected: H. T. Halliwell of the Journal, Coleman, Alta., first vice-president; H. E. Rice, the Huntsville Forester, Huntsville, Ont., second vice-president; and C. V. Chartres, the Conservator, Brampton, Ont., managing director and secretary.

Directors British Columbia: T. A. Love, Grand Forks Gazette; R. J. McDougall, Penticton Herald.

ONTARIO WHEAT ESTIMATE
TORONTO (CP)—The Ontario Department of Agriculture estimates Ontario's 1938 fall wheat crop at 20,036,000 bushels, largest crop since 1926. The monthly crop report issued yesterday sets the average yield for the province at 27 bushels an acre.

Outlines Mass Migration Plan

WILLIAMS LAKE (CP)—Sir Henry Page Croft, British parliamentarian inquiring into the possibility of mass migration of British settlers to interior British Columbia unoccupied agricultural lands, was guest at luncheon of the Williams Lake Board of Trade Saturday.

Sir Henry, with Brig-Gen. M. L. Hornby of Lethbridge, R. S. Dalglish, Newcastle-on-Tyne, and party, remained over night at 100-Mile House. Lord Martin Cecil, hard-handed rancher, in ten-gallon hat and overalls, drove the party over the rich rolling lands of the joint estates of the Marquis of Exeter and Lord Edgerton at and surrounding the 100-Mile Post of the historic Cariboo Road.

Taking over from R. H. Carson, M.P.P., Kamloops, and Ald. Fred Scott of Kamloops, who drove the party into the heart of the Cariboo, H. E. Taylor, president of Williams Lake Board of Trade, Commissioners Sid Western and Bob Beauchamp of Williams Lake conveyed the visitors to this town, which ships annually 10,000 head of beef stock.

Sir Henry expressed delight at what he had seen so far of British Columbia. Today he laid down a three-point plan for handling a proposed land settlement policy. First, selection of the settlers must be made carefully so as to bring in the right type. Second, there must be provided for these settlers sufficient cash to ensure their welfare for the first two years. Third, those failing to succeed, must be repatriated at the expense of the governments interested.

Sir Henry said that the technical side of settlement must be ever kept in mind. Men could not succeed on poor soil. There was no point in trying to change an open ranch country into one of mixed farms and gardens, where soil, climate and other factors favored large holdings for grazing.

Discussing types of settlers to migrate to Canada Sir Henry said: "We do not propose to send you men of the Weary Willie type, Tired Tims or Jeremiahs, but men who will make well in the world if given opportunity. We have men in Great Britain who are not able to make progress because in that land population is thicker upon the surface of the ground than in any other nation. Great Britain can make a gift to Canada of hundreds of thousands of fine citizens who can come under the plan we have in mind and who can make a success. For every new family you place upon the land you will at least put back to useful employment one of those who in secondary industries may find themselves unemployed in this country."

"To those who would suggest that British stock was not today as good as ever it was," Sir Henry said, "after a life in the service of the Empire, I wish to say that a nation which in two years votes £1,500,000,000 for adequate defence of the British Empire—proudly, gladly—since the world has not followed our example, for a greater Royal Air Force, a greater navy and a stronger army, is not showing any signs of degeneracy."

"Scotch this lie that Old Country people have gone back, but there is no greater tragedy than that British stock should be swamped in any part of the Dominion by persons coming in to make homes here who cannot be assimilated and whose ideals are not those of the old stock. You, from your ends, persuade your governments to once more make possible the open gate to British settlement."

As to the cost of a large scale settlement plan, Sir Henry said, "We have in Great Britain given hundreds of millions of pounds in loans upon the continent of Europe in many cases where the return has not even amounted to interest upon the capital advanced. If this can be done, surely for Empire migration policies we can afford to advance such money as would make a successful policy possible."

Sole Survivor Of Air Crash Succumbs

OFFENBURG, Germany (CP)—Sewardess Martha Kreuter, sole survivor of a Czechoslovak air liner crash near Kehl, died in a hospital yesterday after both her legs were amputated.

Miss Kreuter, 23-year-old daughter of a Czechoslovak cigarette manufacturer, was severely burned by the explosion of the big Praha-to-Paris liner which crashed Saturday killing outright the 16 other occupants.

HIGH HOPES can't change the facts of life

All couples start life together with high hopes. Yet high hopes can't change these facts: of every 100 men now 25 years of age, only 5 will be completely self supporting at age 65. Those of the other 95 who are still living will be supported wholly or in part by charity or relatives.

But here is a couple that doesn't just "hope" that all will go well. They have an Imperial Life policy which means that if the young husband lives he will be enabled to save money, if he grows old he will have money to work for him, and if he dies at any time he will leave an income for his dependents.

There is an Imperial Life policy to suit your circumstances—to enable you to offer immediately financial security for your loved ones if you should die and for yourself if you should live to retirement age.

Talk it over with an Imperial Life representative soon. An Imperial Life policy can be made the corner-stone of financial security for you.

B.C.'s Best Business

WHEN HE SPOKE TO THE CANADIAN Weekly Newspaper Association in Vancouver on Friday night Premier Pattullo once again reaffirmed his contention that the building of the Alaska Highway would not only be excellent business in itself but also an undertaking of immense promise for the future of British Columbia. To the objectors to the proposal on military grounds—another term for narrow politics in this case—the Prime Minister had this to say:

"In all the negotiations in which I took part in Washington they never mentioned that road in the sense of a military highway. If final arrangements are made with United States, they'd have no more control over the road than any bondholder who buys B.C. bonds that go to build roads, has over them. I'd like to see it built."

On several occasions we have said in these columns that if the people of British Columbia were to be asked by way of a plebiscite if they favored this highway, the great majority would write "yes" in large letters. We still think so. For road or no road, of course, if the United States were to become involved in a major war by invasion—about as likely as pigs flying—neither British Columbia nor any other province of Canada would escape. The whole of North America and quite possibly South America would be involved. But with this northern section of the continent linked to Latin America, by a highway through this province to Alaska, another argument for combined self-defence against all comers would be established. So much for the safeguard against the improbable event.

The other argument is that road connection between the United States, through British Columbia, with that part of American territory which is Alaska would mean a tourist trade development—to say nothing of the expansion it would mean to our primary industries—that would defray this province's part of the cost of the undertaking in a comparatively short time.

Mr. Pattullo knows his own and his government's business better than anybody else. But our theory is that the business of this province generally could be no better served than by the exertion, by the Prime Minister, of continued pressure, wherever that pressure may be most needed, for an international agreement for the financing and construction of this Alaska Highway.

"Liberty of the Mind"

ALTHOUGH CANADA'S GOVERNOR-General is in his native land for a holiday and a tonic for his health, he seems to have been almost as active as he is when he is discharging his important duties at Rideau Hall. One of Lord Tweedsmuir's "appointments" last month was his own installation as Chancellor of the University of Edinburgh—succeeding the late Sir James Barrie—and on that occasion he delivered an address in which he pleaded for the liberty of the mind. While he naturally covered a good deal of ground in his own searching and polished fashion, some of his observations are too arresting to let pass, not only for the soundness of their reasoning but also because they furnish the receptive mind with a good deal of material for thought.

Alluding to the "anarchy abroad," the Governor-General noted that the spirit of man—which detests anarchy—is willing to pay a high price for the return of law. Great nations, however, for this reason had surrendered their ancient liberties to a man or a machine, showing that "too high a price can be paid for order." In Lord Tweedsmuir's view "it is not a chain of dogmas to which we should return, but an insistence upon the liberty and sacrosanctity of the mind." For he rightly contends that although human reason is not a perfect thing, "it is the best we have, and it is our duty to reverence it and give it free play." In sum:

"Two things we must zealously defend, the freedom and integrity of our thought, boldly facing new conditions, ready to meet any problem, shirking no difficulty, but rigid in our fidelity to the laws which govern our intellectual being. Only thus shall we find confusion give place to order, and it will be the order of a harvest field and not of a graveyard."

Of the perplexed youth of this day and generation Lord Tweedsmuir speaks as to "our human material" who must "dominate all our purposes." He says: "If we can give them minds accustomed to think and inspired with a reverence for thought, and at the same time give them the perspective created by some understanding of our long human story, then we have endowed them with what is most needed—confidence and hope. I hear today from many quarters foolish jeremiads about the younger generation; jeremiads which are not deep calling to deep, but shallow moaning to shallow. We are told that they lack the enterprise, the stamina, and the fortitude of their fathers. That I believe to be wholly untrue. I have always regarded my own undergraduate generation as vigorous and enterprising, but it seems to me that the present generation has a physical audacity which would have left us gasping."

The Governor-General obviously has taken back with him to his homeland more than a little of the spirit of this comparatively young country—the spirit which should, and will, surmount its difficulties with the very aid of the inherent mental audacity of its youth, the same youth which today would perhaps like to apply a little of the "physical audacity" of which Lord Tweedsmuir speaks to some of the "viewers with alarm" in our midst. Canadian youth is and must be Canada's hope.

Victoria's Special Classic

MORE THAN 150 CITIZENS OF THE Pacific Northwest are out at the magnificent course of the Royal Colwood Golf Club today. They are playing their qualifying round for the annual seniors' championship. Their ages range from 55 to 80—the minimum and maximum limits. Until the final issue is settled next Friday they will continue their battles according to their various classifications and, of course, as fortune smiles or frowns upon them.

This yearly event has been described, and rightly so, as a grand and glorious time for the more mature patrons of the royal and ancient pastime. Since its inception 15 years ago it has continued to grow in popularity, while membership in the association now has reached the point at which many 55-year-old devotees must await their turn for inclusion on the roster.

Not only is this tournament an excellent thing for its intrinsic value as a golfing classic. It is also the medium for a pleasant interchange of view between men of affairs of this country and those from the republic on the south. It enables them to reminisce, to live over again the days that are gone, and, naturally, to recapture the inspiration of those thrilling shots on fairway and green when they thought nothing of 36 holes in a day. Above all it is an occasion for the practical manifestation of that good neighborliness which is part of a larger example deserving world-wide emulation.

This newspaper joins in the cordial welcome which is being extended today to the many visitors who are taking part in this particularly interesting golfing tournament.

A Sterling Citizen

JOHN WALLACE WAS THE TYPE OF citizen Victoria could ill afford to lose. By his death this community is the poorer. Endowed with a strong sense of the duties and responsibilities of citizenship, Mr. Wallace, during nearly half a century of residence in this district, rendered a public service which was, perhaps, all the more valuable and effective in that it was unspectacular. On the Victoria School Board for many years, as chairman of the committee on education, he brought to its deliberations a sound and dependable point of view. His church recognized his sterling qualities of heart and mind by electing him an elder, in which capacity he rendered faithful service. His ardent belief in and his staunch adherence to the principles of Liberalism—its practice and its philosophy—found its recognition in his selection for the office of President of the Victoria Liberal Association. He will be missed by all who knew him, by all with whom he came in contact, and the Times associates itself with the many expressions of sympathy which will be extended to his widow and family.

Manionisms

AS HE ACKNOWLEDGED THE HONOR which had been conferred upon him by the National Conservative Party of Canada, its new leader, Dr. R. J. Manion, among other things, said:

"I have never been lonely," referring to the traditional isolation of those in high places, "and I do not propose to be."

"I am your leader, but I am not your commander."

The new Conservative chief apparently wished to convey the idea that he has about as much use for dictatorship tactics—or aloofness—as Prime Minister King.

There is always a bright side. When howling winter comes, people with loud radios must keep their windows closed.

It must annoy ex-Kaiser Wilhelm to see Hitler achieving by bluff alone the things he couldn't achieve by four years of fighting.

The supreme egomaniac is the dictator, who must eventually make war to prolong his power, knowing that war will finish both him and civilization.

News comes into the office of an enterprising peddler who sells "No Peddlers Allowed" signs. Rumors are he has a brother who follows up with "This Means You" signs.

REARMAMENT AS RELIEF

From New York Post
In the depths of the depression some otherwise sane citizens were remarking that what business needed was a "good war." And in some foreign countries unnecessary armament programs, so vast that they endanger peace, have been sold to the people partly on the ground that they give jobs to the unemployed.

As the President points out, the present United States armament program doesn't come in that category. We are spending 15 to 16 per cent of federal revenues on defence. Many other nations are spending 45 and 50 per cent.

Military and naval expenditures should be based on one standard only—the needs of the national defence. If the world in general increases armaments, then we must increase ours, as we are doing now.

But this should come about in times when there is little unemployment, just as readily as in a depression. Armaments are a necessary evil, not an outlet for the energies of the unemployed.

Nations that get into the mental habit of building armaments with their surplus cash and labor are nations that become a menace to the peace of others.

Saving Civilization

THE MOST IMPORTANT PROBLEM BEFORE the scientific world today is not the cure of cancer, the discovery of a new source of energy or any other specific achievement. It is: How can science maintain its freedom and how can it help preserve a peaceful and effective civilization?

If science is inundated by preconceived ideas and brought under the control of dictatorships, as it has in recent years in some countries, it does not continue to create that new knowledge that is necessary for human progress in the years and generations to come.

Viewed frankly, the human intellect is free in the broad and important sense only in geographically limited areas of the globe: The English-speaking areas, France, Scandinavia, hard-pressed Czechoslovakia, some other areas of the western world, and few other intellectual centers.

Germany, Soviet Russia, Italy, and perhaps to a less extent Japan, are molding science and other intellectual endeavors to suit nationalistic purposes. China and Spain have suffered the physical hardships of war in the midst of which science does not flourish. Even under dictatorships and restraints, some hardy intellects struggle to continue their work. Some sacrifice principles to accomplish research condoned by the dictatorships, scientific jobs that do not conflict with ideologies or aid self-contained nationalism.

A MAJOR CONSERVATION PROBLEM is the rescue of the scientists among the refugees from Germany, Austria and other intolerant areas. Quietly, an effective job is being done in refugee rehabilitation, but more thousands are being banished cruelly from their native laboratories because of political, so-called "racial" and religious circumstances. This rescue of scientific brains is important because they hand on the torch of knowledge. Once extinguished the flame is difficult to rekindle.

Even in scientifically liberal countries there are sometimes anti-science activities, such as the anti-evolution wave some years ago and anti-vivisection propaganda.

DURING THE PAST FEW YEARS scientists, in the face of increasing limitations upon freedom, have been wondering what they can do about it. Can they help to put the world in better order? Can they help capital, labor, management, and government adapt and apply successfully the research riches that science has given civilization? Can they infuse into international affairs generally the spirit that makes all scientists intellectual brothers regardless of nationality?

Big problems, these. Formless, amorphous situations, difficult to grasp. Worldly ideals, hard to nail down to realities.

The national science organizations are beginning to reach out to each other. In 1933 the American Association for the Advancement of Science formally expressed "grave concern over persistent and threatening inroads upon intellectual freedom which have been made in recent times in many parts of the world." In 1936 the British Association was urged to become a forum for the discussion of the impact of science on society. In 1937 the American Association extended to the British Association and like science organizations an invitation "to cooperate in promoting peace among nations and intellectual freedom in order that science may continue to advance and spread more abundantly its benefits to all mankind." The ferment is working.

THE A.A.A.S. RESOLUTION OF 1938 framed by Dr. Robert A. Millikan and Prof. Henry Norris Russell is a notable declaration of scientific freedom:

"Our existing liberties," it reads, "have been won through ages of struggle and at enormous cost. If these are lost or seriously impaired there can be no hope of continued progress in science, or justice in government, of international or domestic peace, or even of lasting material well-being."

"We regard the suppression of independent thought and of its free expression as a major crime against civilization itself. Yet oppression of this sort has been inflicted upon investigators, scholars, teachers and professional men in many ways, whether by government action, administrative coercion or extra-legal violence."

"We feel it our duty to denounce all such actions as intolerable forms of tyranny."

"There can be no compromise on this issue, for even the commonwealth of learning cannot endure 'half slave and half free.' By our life and training as scientists and by our heritage we must stand for freedom."

ODD NAMES IN ENGLAND

M. H. Halton from London in Toronto Star
In the Ministry of Labor's record office they have the names of 17,000 insured persons, and one of them is named Mr. Original Bug. Another is named Ephraim Very Ott. There is also Mr. Morning Dew and Mr. Rusty Brown.

There is an Englishman named Fish Fish and another named Fish Face. There is Himalaya Mackay, East Lynne, Lily May Dot Johns, Major Colonel Gennard, River Jordan, Vanity Fair, Buenos Ayres and Adam Smart Officer. There are 406,000 Smiths, 305,000 Jones, who take a lot of keeping up with; 189,000 Taylors, 182,000 Williamses and 173,000 Browns. There are 37 Stanley Baldwins and 10 Winston Churchills. "In this record office," said the girl in the record office, "there are more than 800,000,000 documents."

Also in England there are 48 Charlie Chaplins and 153 John Bulls.

If Nature is so smart, why does she give children to the only people who don't know exactly how to handle them?

Correct this sentence: "A city like ours affords many cultural advantages," said she, "and we all take advantage of them."

The world must be growing worse. The only people free of petty faults and weaknesses are the ones who lived years ago.

There is no mystery about Hitler's success. He had the nerve to take what he wanted, and nobody had the courage to interfere.

Storm Clouds Gather Again Over India

MAHATMA GANDHI is preparing to lead a new passive resistance campaign of civil disobedience in India. India is still determined to resist the federal section of the government of India Act of 1935, writes Ludwig Lore in the New York Post. It looked at first as if the Indian Congress would accept the new federal constitution at least temporarily but any likelihood of peace on these terms has disappeared. India is resolved to reject any constitution not framed by a free universal adult franchise.

Mr. MacDonald, Britain's Colonial Secretary, when asked in the House of Commons whether the government would reopen its negotiations with India, replied curtly: "The question of the Indian government and its constitution has been settled. It is, as far as this government is concerned, a closed book and no change or further negotiation are contemplated."

If this should prove to be the case, i.e., if the Chamberlain government insists on imposing the federation in its present form on an unwilling India, a determined struggle between the Indian people and British imperialism seems inevitable. The mahatma will be the nominal director of such a nation-wide fight, but the active and directing head of the campaign will be Jawaharlal Nehru, the president of the Congress Party.

AN IMPORTANT and probably deciding factor in this momentous struggle will be the strength of the peasant masses whose awakening to political understanding is one of the great results of Gandhi's first resistance movement 10 years ago. By its support of the mahatma and his historic movement, the Congress Socialist Party won the peasant support and has been getting it during the last campaigns. At first the Indian intellectuals, graduates from British and American universities, carried the burden of these campaigns and became the victims of British persecution. Their message reached the industrial workers and those enlightened parts of the middle classes which were willing to listen to them. The leaders of the Congress Socialist Party—foremost among them J. Nehru—understood that it was necessary for the success of the movement to interest the peasantry in the struggle for political self-rule and independence from England.

SINCE NEARLY three-quarters of India's total population of 350,000,000 is dependent on agriculture for a livelihood, it was obvious that the fight could not be won without the active support of the rural population, which is distributed over 665,000 villages. The census figures of 1921 show that 73 per cent of India's population lives by agriculture, 10.6 per cent in the mining industry and 7.1 per cent in transport and trade.

Nehru and his friends from the Congress Party drafted a peasant program with three main demands: (1) the abolition of feudal landlords and of all intermediaries between the peasant who works his land and the state; (2) lifting the burden of debt from the shoulder of the working peasant; and (3) a substantial reduction in land revenue and the abolition of all feudal and semi-feudal levies.

A modest program certainly, but a beginning. It brought the peasants in line behind the political demands of the Congress Party, it, in turn, will use the political power it has won to carry out its agrarian program in the interests of the overwhelming majority of the Indian people.

FREE-SPEECH AND THOUGHT

From North Vancouver Review
The British government has refused to prohibit a meeting of Free Thinkers announced to be held in Britain in September. The meeting has been convened by a body calling itself the International Congress of the World Union of Free Thinkers. Application to have it prohibited was made to Sir Samuel Hoare, the Home Secretary, by Captain Archibald H. M. Ramsay and 70 other members of parliament acting on behalf of the Christian Defence Movement.

Sir Samuel Hoare in reply said that while he personally deplored the holding of a free thinking congress as being "repugnant to the sentiment of the great mass of Christian people in Britain" he not only had no power to prohibit it, but to do so, provided it be orderly, would in his opinion be contrary to "a long and cherished tradition of liberty and toleration which in these times it is more than ever important to maintain."

Britain properly prides itself upon allowing freedom both of meeting and of speech. To adopt any other line would be a negation of that liberty which English-speaking races prize.

CAN IT STAND THE STRAIN?

From Cavalade, London
Main hope of the British Government—a slender hope for the Chamberlain policy of appeasement through the Anglo-Italian agreement—is that the British plan for strengthening nonintervention and withdrawing all foreign volunteers from Spain will come into operation soon. The plan was sent to both sides in Spain for their approval. Approval is not expected for at least a month.

Two "counting commissions," each consisting of three neutrals, will then be dispatched to Spain to assess the number of volunteers, and to arrange for their withdrawal to Palamos and Cartagena for those fighting for the government, and to Malaga and Cadiz for Franco volunteers.

Work of the commissions may last two months, assuming the plan is accepted, and the two sides co-operate.

Withdrawal is proposed at the rate of 1,000 a day from each side, and 164 days is the period fixed for the evacuation. At this rate it will be six months at latest before all foreign volunteers are out of Spain.

The British Government hopes, however, that it will be possible when a certain number have been withdrawn to draft a formula which will cover the condition of a "Spanish settlement," and enable the Anglo-Italian agreement to come into force.

The big question is: Can the Anglo-Italian agreement, as it now stands, take the strain of another three months?

THE PERILS OF PAULINE

From Chicago News
To the cliff's edge she clung by her teeth while the villain loomed above her with a forceps. Week after week, as children squealed, women gasped, and even strong men gibbered, she was left hurtling from high bridge to speeding train, or cascading down an underground river, or crawling with bound arms through creeping flames—until next week's installment of "The Perils of Pauline," and after that "The Exploits of Elaine."

All this derring do of desperate emprise Pearl White performed all by herself in the good, bold days of the silent motion picture, before the effete coming of doubles and stand-ins. Death, in fact and fiction, she thrust back in coil after coil of numberless encounters; and now, in fact, death has just come to her quietly in Paris.

In the hearts of the older generations, Pearl White cannot die. Forever she will reign as the golden girl of the true romance, who does not swoon or cry aloud, but meets those two impostors, Death and Evil, with brave eyes and steel-knit nerves that virtue may not and must not quail, even on the grim verge of extinction.

CRIMINAL DESTRUCTION

From Cowichan Leader
The district ranger, Mr. Sweetman, told the Rotary Club that 75 per cent of all fires are due to human agencies. This means that of the 32 fires recorded this season in our ranger districts, some individual was responsible for each one of 24 of them. Furthermore, careless smokers are credited with having caused 14 out of the 24.

This is a serious indictment and the enormity of such criminal negligence can only be fully realized when one considers the figures given by Mr. Sweetman covering the produce of the forests of this district. They were for last year, 451 million feet of logs, one-sixth of the total B.C. cut; and the value of the district's forest products was $7,000,000.

Even if only for personal benefit, every one, young and old, should act as an honorary fire prevention officer.

TEA DRINKERS HIT

From West Vancouver Review
Just what a jolt the Chamberlain government has administered to John Bull's tummy and pocketbook by raising the duty on tea to 8d per pound can best be sized up by examining the tea-drinking statistics of occidental nations. Here we find Great Britain imports more than 500,000,000 pounds of tea annually and consumes 9.22 pounds per capita. The United States quaffs only 0.6 pounds per head, Germany 0.15, France 0.06. Tea, in the Old Country, is more than a beverage. It's an institution. Business ceases and the wheels of industry are silenced in the afternoon while the Englishman solemnly fills his cup and toasts his ancestors, his favorite football team, the weather or the horse he has picked for the Derby. Government has been thrown out neck and crop for trifling with far less sacred rights.

OPENING THE FEDERAL TREASURY TO THE WHEAT GROWERS

To the Editor:—Ottawa has set the price of wheat at 80 cents. This means, in effect, that the wheat growers of Canada are to be subsidized to the tune of from $20,000,000 to $25,000,000, with wheat at its present price.

In the past, the people of Canada have been called upon to provide large amounts of money for the construction of grain-handling facilities. They have equipped the principal ports of the Dominion with ample facilities to handle our whole grain trade.

Now on top of this, the government is to make what amounts to a cash contribution to our wheat producers. It is obvious therefore that our government should make use of all its grain-handling facilities, constructed by the Canadian taxpayers, to handle all the grain that will come under this new subsidizing arrangement.

Here in Vancouver, there are three government elevators capable of handling 100,000 bushels of grain. In New Westminster, there is a civic grain elevator; also in Victoria and Prince Rupert are publicly owned elevators. These should be used to full advantage by our government in the handling and storing of their own grain.

Port Churchill is equipped with a government elevator. Our government also has a large elevator at Port Arthur, at Quebec, Sorel, Halifax, Prescott, Port Colborne. The fact is that the grain elevator capacity owned by the people of Canada is more than ample to handle several times the entire Canadian grain crop.

We will hear some complaints to the effect that this will affect the private grain interests. That may be so. But the present situation is considered to be a national emergency. Surely the great masses of our people—overburdened taxpayers—are much more important in such a crisis as the present than are a few private grain firms.

So far as we here in British Columbia are concerned, we are in a worse position than the people elsewhere in this Dominion. We have been forced to subsidize the grain growers of western Canada for some time past to the tune of from 12 to 15 cents a bushel on all wheat and wheat products exported from Pacific ports. With this additional levy being placed upon us, our position is going to be very serious.

We have been told on many occasions in the past that we ought not to allow Canadian wheat to be dumped. That was the original slogan of the mighty wheat pool.

Today with the facilities that are owned and controlled by the people of Canada, it is possible to store a great quantity of our grain for a trifling cost. The great interior government grain elevators can and must be used now to their full capacity. By so doing, this will serve at least to lessen the terrific financial burden that otherwise will be placed upon the shoulders of overburdened Canadian taxpayers. These government elevators constructed in all parts of Canada, were not supposed to be political elevators. They were built to serve a useful purpose. Their day of opportunity has arrived. In effect, what our government is saying, is this: "The private grain trade cannot take care of the grain of the western farmers. We must come to their rescue." It is therefore incumbent upon our government to reduce its own costs of operations to a minimum. This can be done, and done most effectively when our government uses these facilities that itself created, to the fullest possible extent for the handling of its own grain under the present emergency condition.

Montreal and eastern ports are already greatly concerned over this matter. They realize that the manner of routing of this grain is going to prove a very important matter to them, as it will prove to us on the Pacific coast. It is up to all of us here to bend our every effort to see that our western grain route and grain facilities are used to their fullest capacity.

Under this present arrangement, it is imperative that we receive every bushel of grain produced for export in the province of Alberta and a portion of that produced in Saskatchewan. Any other arrangement will be in opposition to the best interests of all Canadians and against the best interests of western Canadians in particular.

There can be no justification for our government not using its own grain-handling facilities in the handling of its own grain. Certainly there is no justification for our not getting our share of such grains through our Pacific coast facilities from such areas as are tributary to these ports.

May I say here that I feel it is imperative that we get an expression of opinion on this problem from our local federal representative, the Hon. Ian Mackenzie, and from all other representatives on all our public bodies. This is a serious matter. The manner in which this problem is dealt with will prove whether our government is of the people, for the people and by the people.

LYLE TELFORD, M.P.P., Vancouver.

PASSPORT FOR HORSES

From New York Post
Horses are to have passports in Lithuania as part of a campaign to suppress the epidemic of horse stealing which has broken out there. Horse passports will make it hard to dispose of stolen animals, the authorities hope. Anyone buying a horse without a proper passport from now on will be treated as a receiver of stolen goods.

3. Conveyance. 4. To take away; to detract. "If we did derogate from them whom their industry, hath made great."—Hooker. 5. Lacerate.

Relief Policy Is Altered

No Further Aid at Interior Points for Single Homeless Men

The provincial government on Saturday suddenly switched its plans for relief of homeless single men who staged a sit-down strike in July.

Transients, who have been cut off further relief, were charged by Hon. George S. Pearson, Minister of Labor, with having broken faith with the government and having obtained their relief money under false pretenses.

B.C. men, 240 in number, roaming around interior towns will be cut off relief at those points and must make any further applications for relief at the points where they registered originally after leaving Victoria.

Mr. Pearson declared the 525 transients agreed in writing to return to the prairies to seek harvest work if they were granted temporarily relief. Barely 20 per cent have applied for this transportation.

"They will get no more relief in British Columbia," he said, "and this includes next winter."

Of the B.C. men, Mr. Pearson said approximately 140 have not applied for a second installment of relief and apparently got jobs. The other 240 are going about the interior in groups of 50 and 60.

"While they make the pretense of getting work, obviously they cannot get it this way," he said. "If any or all of them are seeking work it is clear they haven't been able to get it. Having this in mind we have concluded that it is useless to continue this plan, and we have issued our last relief allowances on the present basis. In future applications for relief will only be considered if made at the point of original registration."

Following representations made by the Canadian Legion, Mr. Pearson said the government has agreed to grant relief to ex-service single men in Vancouver on the same basis as other single men's relief.

Ducks Open November 15

Seasons for Migratory Birds Fixed by Government

Shooting seasons for ducks and other migratory birds on Vancouver Island and other parts of the western game district were announced from the Attorney-General's office today after approval by Ottawa.

Major changes, made on representations of the Attorney-General, are to extend the season for ducks, coots and geese on the mainland from December 28 to January 2, to allow shooting over the New Year week-end and the banning of bandit pigeon shooting in the Courtenay fire region.

The dates, as issued, follow:

Ducks, coots, geese, except black brant and snow geese, on Vancouver Island from November 15 to January 14; in the rest of the western district from October 29 to January 2.

Black brant and spow geese—on Vancouver Island, December 17 to February 16; rest of district, December 1 to January 31.

Bandit pigeons, Vancouver Island, except area near Courtenay, affected by forest fires, September 17 to 30; rest of district, September 10 to 30.

Wilson or Jack snipe, Vancouver Island, November 15 to January 2; rest of district, October 29 to January 2.

A new vaccine is proving effective in fighting jungle yellow fever.

Fire Hazard Is Lessened

Campfire Permits Allowed On Island Following Rains

As clouds hung over a greater part of the district following rain earlier in the week, the provincial forest branch today eased further its restrictions in the Vancouver forest district to prevent fires.

E. C. Manning, chief forester, announced that camp fire permits will now be granted, although warning that every precaution must still be taken to guard against fire outbreaks and conditions under which permits are issued must be strictly followed.

Logging has been resumed along the island and mainland coasts after lifting of the closure order imposed at the height of the hot weather.

The forest branch reported that fire conditions are still hot and hazardous in the southern interior, with lightning storms in the Shuswap area.

The Peace River is still hazardous but in the northern interior rains have reduced the menace somewhat.

The fire toll for the year to date is 1,580 outbreaks, compared with 820 last year and 1,110 in 1936.

Building In City Active

Victoria Leads Municipalities In New Construction for Week

The city proper again led Greater Victoria municipalities in construction last week with 12 permits issued for work with a total value of $15,485.

Included in the permits were two for dwellings and one major renovation project for the Bishop's Close.

Other jobs covered in the grand total were of a minor nature.

Building permits for three new homes with a total cost of $9,600 were issued at the Oak Bay Municipal Hall during the week.

The permits were granted to: Edith J. Burrows, for a five-room home at 2690 Cadboro Bay Road, valued at $2,800; Victor L. Leigh, for a six-room dwelling at 2620 Cavendish Avenue, worth $3,600; and Percy Dunkerly, for a five-room house at 1880 Greatford Place, with $3,200.

Permits for two new homes were included in last week's total of seven permits issued in Saanich. Total building values for the week were $4,150. John Williams took out papers for a five-room dwelling on Lovatt Avenue, to cost $1,000, and another permit was issued for a five-room dwelling on Wascana Street, to cost $1,800.

RELIEF COSTS FOR JULY UP

Costs of relief to the city of Victoria during July were $213 above those of June despite the fact the number drawing relief was lower last month.

A special issue for clothing accounted to a certain extent for the increase. Major distribution of wearing apparel to those in straightened circumstances takes place every three months, July being one of those months.

Total costs last month were $17,075.04 against $16,972.40 for June and $21,510.17 for July, 1937, when the number on relief was far in excess of the record low registered at present.

Last month's cost sheet showed family units secured $12,040.24 and single unemployed $5,034.81.

City Solicitor Is Back at Office

H. S. Pringle, city solicitor, returned to his office Saturday following an extended visit to eastern Canada and the United States which took him as far as Quebec.

Accompanied by Mrs. Pringle and their two daughters, the city solicitor spent some time in his home town of Napanee, Ontario, proceeding later to Montreal, where he met members of the city bondholders' committee contacted during the recent refunding negotiations.

Returning via the United States, he visited Chicago and spent some time at Detroit, inspecting the impressive Ford Museum at the Green Fields Village.

Bar Delegates Will Come Here

Leading Canadian Lawyers to Visit City After Vancouver Convention

Executive officials of the Victoria Bar Association and probably a majority of Victoria lawyers this week will attend the annual convention of the Canadian Bar Association in Vancouver.

The convention will open on the mainland Wednesday and continue for three days.

Late this week the Victoria Bar will be hosts to the distinguished visitors.

A luncheon will be held at the Empress Hotel at noon on Saturday, at which guests will include Sir Lyman Duff, former Victoria lawyer and now Chief Justice of Canada and acting Governor-General, in the absence in England of Lord Tweedsmuir; A. T. Vanderbilt, president of the American Bar Association; Viscount Finlay, head of the British Bar Association; His Honor the Lieut.-Governor and Premier Pattullo.

Following the luncheon the visitors will be driven to the Butchart Gardens and will then attend a garden party at Government House.

Helen Alice Kinnear, K.C., of Port Colborne, Ontario, only woman King's Counsel in the British Empire, will be here with the party, as will several other women lawyers.

Two special boats will carry the 600 lawyers to Victoria. One will arrive here at 10 Friday evening and the other at 7 Saturday morning. The latter will be in addition to the regular night steamer.

Among officers of the local association expected to attend the various gatherings will be: H. W. Davy, president; H. J. Davis, vice-president; J. A. Rutten, secretary; and H. G. S. Heisterman, D. P. W. Maunsell, W. H. M. Haldane, Alan Maclean, J. R. McIlree, D. W. Gordon, Carew Martin, R. D. Harvey and R. A. Wootton, executive members.

25 Years Ago

AUGUST 15, 1913
(From the Times Files)

In a letter to the London Times the headmaster of Eton draws attention to an effort of the public schools to "mitigate the pest, of unfit boys being dumped into the Dominions, and of fit boys being discouraged from going."

The school board intends to notify the city council that the sum of $160,000 will be required from the sale of debentures before the end of the year. This was decided by the board last evening.

W. B. Young, the Vancouver architect who was appointed by the school board to examine the competitive plans for the new Hollywood school, informed the board last night that the report would be rendered in a few days' time.

The new city market on Pandora Avenue was opened today. Several of the stalls on Blanshard Street and Pandora Avenue are occupied already.

Night schools will be started in October. The curriculum will not be drafted to compete with commercial schools, which in the opinion of the inspector of schools, fully cover the local demand. The inspector indicated that he had attempted to deal only with theoretical work and not to cover technical instruction, at any rate, as yet.

Cameron Workers Enjoy Picnic Day

Approximately 250 members and their friends of the Cameron Lumber Company Ltd. Social Club picnicked at the Chalet, Deep Cove, on Saturday afternoon and evening.

Ice cream, candy, soft drinks and light refreshments were provided and the afternoon was spent in playing games and running races.

A softball team composed of members of the day shift defeated a night shift crew by a score of 6 to 1.

D. O. Cameron, vice-president of the company, and A. W. Miller, secretary-treasurer, were in attendance. Mr. Miller was in charge of the races for both young and old. Alec Jarvie, president of the club, presented the prizes.

The committee in charge of arrangements was composed of Alec Jarvie, Jack Pascoe, Howard Watson, Frank Wilkinson, Frank White and Jack Dempster.

Iron Lung Rushed To Save Albertan

CALGARY (CP)—Alberta's second iron lung, rushed from Edmonton by train, was in use at the Calgary Isolation Hospital today.

Encased in it was a 22-year-old infantile paralysis victim brought by ambulance from his Turner Valley home early yesterday. Until the arrival of the mechanical lung, a corps of first aid workers, from 8.30 a.m. to 3 p.m., administered artificial respiration to the youth. His condition was reported fairly good last night.

The first aid workers from the St. John Ambulance Brigade under the direction of C. E. McArthur, worked in three-minute relays throughout the six and a half hours.

Mothers Enjoyed Veterans' Concert

The fourth concert was put on Friday evening at the Fred Landsberg Sunshine Camp and arranged by Alderman W. H. Davies. The concert was sponsored by the Pro Patria Club, Canadian Legion. The following artists assisted: J. Collins, chairman entertainment committee; Tom Lord, song; Bill Anderson, violin solo; Bowley Turner, song; Frank Lavery, song; Stan James and Tom Obee in a comedy duet; John Goo, dancing marionettes.

Stan James, Bill Anderson, Frank Lavery formed the band, which played for the community singing, the mothers and children joining in. Ice cream and candy was donated by the Pro Patria branch; the show concluded by the mothers and children giving three hearty cheers for the Pro Patria branch.

Metropolitan Y.P.S.

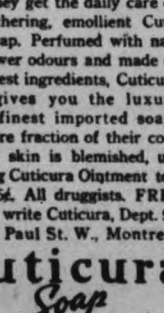

Bob Booth, Indiana, heartily thanked the members of the Metropolitan Young People's Society for their warm hospitality when he said farewell to the society at its midsummer beach social. After departing from the church at 7:45 p.m., the mystery trip brought the young people to Little Cordova Bay, where pop, hot dogs and peanuts awaited them. This was followed by a sing-song led by the president, L. Cannon. The evening concluded at the park, where "Mulberry Bush" was played. Miss Laura Singlet introduced the visitors, and president L. Cannon, Bud Kirk, P. Singleton, Jack Holland and Douglas Jack provided transportation.

Three well-known easterners, who have been holidaying in Victoria and were snapped in the Empress Hotel gardens last week are: Right to left, Mr. E. H. Coleman, Under-Secretary of State, and Mrs. Coleman, and W. F. Schroeder, all of Ottawa. They have gone over to Vancouver for the meeting of the Canadian Bar Association and will return to Victoria on Saturday next.

SOCIAL and PERSONAL

Miss Kathleen Shaw and Miss Gladys Tanner are among the Victorians spending a holiday at Alta Lake.

Miss Ellen Cannon, Misses Agnes and Margaret Grant and Miss Kathleen Nesbitt left yesterday for a motor trip to Kamloops and the Okanagan Lakes.

Mrs. Thomas Bordeaux of Seattle, who has been visiting here for a short time, is now the guest of Mr. and Mrs. Charles E. Wilson, the Uplands.

Mrs. M. Jarvis-Peacey, "Pinehurst" Apartments, Dallas Road, leaves today for a two months' visit to Winnipeg and other points in the east.

Mrs. Chas. B. Cox of Vancouver, with her two little daughters, Diana and Wendy, came over from the mainland Saturday to visit her aunt, Mrs. C. F. Cox, Crescent Road, for a week.

Mrs. Andrew Blyth, Qu'Appelle Street, who has been spending the last month in Calgary with her brother-in-law and sister, Mr. and Mrs. Stewart Phipps, returned to Victoria yesterday.

Mr. and Mrs. Leslie A. Gane have returned to their home, 1126 Dallas Road, after an absence of several months, during which time they have been visiting relatives and friends in England and the eastern provinces of Canada and the U.S.A.

Mr. and Mrs. S. Hall of Seattle, who have been visiting Mrs. Hall's mother, Mrs. A. Rideout, Stanley Apartments, left this afternoon for their home. They were accompanied by Mrs. Rideout, who will spend a month with them.

The engagement was announced in Seattle last week of Miss Bonita Smith, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Earl R. Smith, and Mr. Frank J. Taylor, youngest son of Mrs. William Taylor and the late Mr. Taylor, formerly of Victoria, and grandson of the late Capt. and Mrs. Michael O'Keefe, pioneer residents of this city.

Mrs. C. E. Wilson, the Uplands, returned on Saturday from Portland, Oregon, where she has been spending the last two months. While away Mrs. Wilson took a course in metal work under the auspices of the Portland Art and Craft Society, and under the instruction of Mr. L. D. Deutschman.

The old-time dancing class at 1489 Fort Street held a surprise party recently in honor of the 21st birthday of Miss Winnie Oxendale. Mrs. J. B. Hudson, the hostess, welcomed the guests. Those present were Mesdames B. Godfrey, N. Yates, B. Ruddock, Misses Winnie Gardner, Irene Godfrey, Margaret Greenway, Mimi Ruddock, Rita Sylvester, Messrs. James Oxendale, Ted and Bill Gardner, Romayne Grant, Gilbert Dennison, Allan Bayless, Bill Natras, Victor Sylvester and A. Hudson. The evening was spent in dancing, followed by a short program. Mr. Clifford Moore gave solos on the piano; Miss Winnie Gardner, violin solo; Miss Irene Godfrey, piano solo, minuet danced by Mrs. J. Hudson and Mrs. B. Ruddock. Refreshments were served in the dining-room prettily decorated with pink and white streamers, sweet peas and roses. The table was centred with a birthday cake decorated in pink and white with 21 candles.

Mr. George J. Dyke, ex-president of the Burrard Cricket Club, Vancouver, and ex-president of Albion C.C., left this afternoon for Vancouver to attend the North Shore Cricket Week Festival at North Vancouver.

Mrs. Branson of Vancouver, who has been visiting her son and daughter-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. George Branson at Bamberton, returned on Saturday to the mainland.

Miss Cary Wilgess of Vancouver, who is visiting her grandmother, Mrs. Gordon Hepburn, Beach Drive, was the guest of honor when the U.S. Consul and Mrs. Reed Paige Clark entertained a number of young people at a swimming party at their home, Riffington, the Uplands, yesterday afternoon. The guests included the Misses Mylanwy Spencer, Terese Todd, Phyllis Pooley, Elizabeth Martin, Ann Ridewood, Eleanor Heistermann, Pamela Beard, Roseanna Gillespie, Barbara Winslow, Elizabeth Stewart, Joan Fort, Honor Benson, Kathleen and Margot Greer, Renee Watson, Diana and Daphne Ker and Messrs. Tom Wood, Mickey Mitchell, John Martin, Ian and Athol Sutherland, Brown, John Monteith, John and Phillip Nation, Hoadley Mitchell, Hugh Nation, Terry Todd, Bob Driscoll, Remy Ades (London), John Critchley, Jamie Stewart and Jim Shuttleworth.

Mr. and Mrs. E. J. Gage, "Cheddon," Penzance Road, entertained on Sunday afternoon in compliment to the friends who took part in the tableau vivant in which Mr. R. Heale was the honored guest. Many pictures were taken of the guests, the garden making a lovely setting for the colorful costumes. Bowls of hydrangeas and chrysanthemum were effectively used throughout the home. Later tea was served from a table covered with an eucalyptus cloth, a crystal bowl of cosmos, larkspur and peonies on a mirror stand made an attractive centerpiece. A birthday greeting, signed by each guest, was sent to Mr. G. Heale, who, accompanied by Mrs. Heale, left recently for England. Guests included Mr. and Mrs. W. Barnes, Mr. and Mrs. A. Lane, Miss H. Drury, Mr. and Mrs. F. Kemp, Mr. and Mrs. A. Sartori, Mr. R. Heale and Mr. Skinner, Vancouver.

Miss Peggy Pidcock was the guest of honor at a miscellaneous shower given jointly by the Misses Dorothy Freeman, Phyllis Winterbottom and Laura Catterall at the Beach Hotel, Oak Bay, yesterday afternoon. Tea was served in the lounge, which was attractive with great bowls of pink and mauve asters and zinnias, similar flowers forming the artistic decoration of the tea-table, at which Mrs. W. Pidcock and Miss Margaret Thomson presided. The bride-to-be was presented with a corsage bouquet of gardenias, and later received the many lovely gifts which were concealed in a yellow-toned watering can. The invited guests included: Mrs. W. Pidcock, Mrs. R. T. Freeman, Mrs. H. Catterall, Mrs. A. H. Davies, Mrs. A. Patterson, Mrs. S. Winterbottom, Misses Peggy Pidcock, Ruby Lawrence, Margaret Thomson, May Thomson, Margaret Telford, Muriel Barnett, Audrey Barnett, Clare Layborn, June Sweeting, Barbara Sweeting, Muriel Winterbottom, Miriam Biggin, Frances Biggin, Nan Eve, Winifred Hayes, Sheila Sangster and Marjorie Peden.

Mrs. A. Y. Anderson of Vancouver is visiting her brother-in-law and sister, Mr. and Mrs. V. M. Gallon, Linden Avenue.

Hon. Mr. Justice Mackenzie of Regina and Mrs. Mackenzie, who have been on their annual summer visit to Victoria, have left for Vancouver for the meeting of the Canadian Bar Association.

Dr. and Mrs. H. T. C. Whitley of Ottawa, who have been visiting Mrs. Whitley's brother-in-law and sister, Mr. and Mrs. Ian Simpson, Beach Drive, are spending a few days with Commander Holt at Queenswood.

Mr. Fred Lethbridge of Saskatoon and his two daughters, the Misses Barbara and Doris Lethbridge of Wilkie, Sask., who have been spending a couple of weeks with Mr. and Mrs. J. H. Taylor, St. Patrick Street, will leave tomorrow for their homes on the prairie.

Mr. and Mrs. H. A. LeRoy of Penticton, B.C., announce the engagement of their only daughter, Florence Hilda Mary, to Mr. William Morris Laurie, son of Mr. and Mrs. J. Laurie of Cranbrook, B.C. The wedding will take place in St. Saviour's Church, Penticton, on August 18, at 2 p.m.

Guests staying at the Shawlin Beach Hotel include Mr. and Mrs. Arch Brown, Honolulu; Judge and Mrs. Wm. F. James, Stanford University, Calif.; Mr. R. W. Beck, Seattle; Miss Jocelyn Brock, Vancouver; Miss M. Lewis, Victoria; Miss Marjorie E. Lowry, Scottsbluff, Nebraska; Mr. and Mrs. M. B. Chandler, Spokane; Mr. Evan Griffiths, Victoria; Mr. F. McCabe, Victoria; Mr. and Mrs. H. S. Peel, Vancouver; Mr. and Mrs. G. M. Sinclair, Wells, B.C.; Miss Lillian Parfitt, Victoria; Mr. F. B. Gregory, Victoria; Mr. and Mrs. Jack Gorman and Miss Geraldine Gorman, Salt Lake City.

Miss Elaine Adam entertained at her home on Richardson Street yesterday afternoon in honor of Miss Elza Lovitt, who is to be married in September to Mr. Alan Mayhew. During the afternoon the bride-to-be was presented with a handsome Madeira and cut-work table cloth and matching napkins, on behalf of her assembled friends. The reception rooms were effectively arranged with summer flowers. Mrs. George Lovitt and Miss Margaret Adam presided at the tea table, which was centred with an artistic bowl of cactus dahlias and gypsophylla. The Misses Mary Matthews of Kamloops, Connie Brown and Birdie Pendray assisted in serving. The invited guests included: Mrs. R. W. Mayhew, Miss Elza Lovitt, Miss Jean Mayhew, Mrs. Horace Miller, Mrs. W. Gwyer, Mr. T. Stevenson, and the Misses Thelma Ackerman, Ruth Morton, Davina Dingwall, Muriel Thompson, Hope Denbigh, Libby Edwards, Connie Hobbs, Isobel Burnes, Marjorie and Connie Brown, "Bibs" Adams, Eve Lytton, Margaret Vantreigh, Tita Hall, Phyllis Dickson, Lois Pendray, June Scurah, Betsy McCallum, Ida Yardley, Lois and Kay Herren, Loula Cameron, Helen Peden, Kathleen Kermode (Vancouver), Peggy Walton, Buntle Bailie, Roma Dorman, Margaret Jones, Helen Eve, Birdie Pendray, Mary Matthews (Kamloops) and Doreen McGregor.

Naval Wedding At St. Paul's Church

Miss Angela Davis
Is Bride Of
Lieut. John Michell

At high noon today at St. Paul's Naval and Garrison Church, Esquimalt, the marriage of Angela, eldest daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Harry J. Davis of 621 Newport Avenue, Oak Bay, and Lieutenant John Michell, R.N., younger son of Mr. and Mrs. C. P. R. Michell of Forcett Park, Yorkshire, England, was solemnized by Rev. Arthur Bischlager, rector, assisted by Right Rev. W. R. Remington, Bishop of Oregon.

For the occasion, the church had been beautifully decorated with summer flowers by friends of the bride, under the supervision of Mrs. John E. Semmes and Miss Elizabeth Ruggles.

Entering the church on the arm of her father, by whom she was given in marriage, the fair bride was lovely in her wedding gown of white georgette, fashioned with simplicity, and joined with long train of cream velvet when she was presented to Their Majesties King George and Queen Elizabeth at the Court of St. James. An exquisite veil of rose point lace, loaned by her godmother, Mrs. O. M. Jones, was arranged on her head in cascade and held in place with a single strand of orange blossoms. She carried a shower bouquet of cream gladioli, butterfly roses and swansonia.

As attendant, she had her sister, Miss Desiree Davis, whose frock was of peach-pink taffeta, girdled with a velvet sash in a deeper shade, adorned with flowers to match. Her floral headdress was of velvet flowers in autumn colorings, and her bouquet was composed of Los Angeles gladioli. The groomsmen were Lieut. Harold Groos of H.M.C.S. Fraser, Mr. Cecil F. Boulter, the organist, played the wedding marches on the arrival and departure of the wedding party, and the hymns sung were "Lead Us, Heavenly Father, Lead Us" and "O Perfect Love, All Love Excelling."

Following the ceremony a reception was held in the garden at the Beach Hotel, Oak Bay, where the guests were received by the bride's mother, Mrs. Davis, and by her grandmother, Mrs. Tilton. Mrs. Davis wore a gown of Viennese blue crepe, modeled on Princess lines, with a coat of the crepe and a large navy blue hat, and a corsage bouquet of Talisman roses. Mrs. Hilton wore a dark brown ensemble, with hat to match relieved with touches of autumn colorings and a corsage bouquet of Talisman roses.

Lieutenant and Mrs. Michell left by motor on a trip up the island. At Comox, the bridegroom will rejoin his ship, H.M.S. York, and proceed with it to Bermuda, where his bride will join him later.

GARDEN RECEPTION

Following the ceremony a reception was held in the garden at the Beach Hotel, Oak Bay, where the guests were received by the bride's mother, Mrs. Davis, and by her grandmother, Mrs. Tilton. Mrs. Davis wore a gown of Viennese blue crepe, modeled on Princess lines, with a coat of the crepe and a large navy blue hat, and a corsage bouquet of Talisman roses. Mrs. Hilton wore a dark brown ensemble, with hat to match relieved with touches of autumn colorings and a corsage bouquet of Talisman roses.

Miss Diana Cripps To Marry Shortly

LONDON (CP-Havas) — The betrothal of Diana Cripps, eldest daughter of Sir Stafford Cripps, Labor M.P., to Purcell Weaver, was announced today. The couple will be married in Jamaica September 20. Sir Stafford reached Jamaica during the week-end.

LANGFORD

A meeting of the members of St. Matthew's Guild will be held on Friday at the home of Mrs. P. N. Welch, "McBabane," Island Highway, at 2:30 o'clock.

Miss Esther Hjalmarson from Langford, Manitoba, is visiting in London, the guest of Mr. and Mrs. J. C. Nimmo.

Conservative Fete At Mrs. R. H. Snape's

Herbert Anscombe, member of the legislature for Victoria, will open a garden party under the auspices of the Saanich Conservative Association at 2:30 p.m. on Wednesday. The affair will be held at "Oakhill," the residence of Mr. and Mrs. R. H. Snape, at 1140 Tattersall Drive, under the joint convener of Mrs. S. G. Woolley and Mrs. F. E. Toms.

A feature attraction will be Miss Florence Clough's troupe of dancers. The ever-popular tumbler from the Y.M.C.A., along with Miss Bessie Hope, character dancer, will also perform. Music will be provided by a string quartette. Arrangements have been made for fortune telling, house-house and surprise novelties. Those who wish to play tennis and croquet will be able to do so.

The committee in charge is headed by the president, Mr. P. Mickleburgh, and consists of Mrs. J. Watson, Mrs. Giles, Mrs. B. C. Gale, Mrs. MacQueen, Mrs. S. G. Woolley, Mrs. F. E. Toms, Mr. H. Patterson, Mr. J. Watson, Mr. H. Lingham, Mr. B. Mickleburgh and Major Cunningham. Tea will be served under the convener of Mrs. J. Watson.

The gardens are well known to many for their beauty, and it is expected many visitors will take this opportunity of viewing them.

Weddings

FRANK—LONGWORTH

At the First United Church Saturday evening Rev. F. W. Anderson united in marriage Aileen, only daughter of Mr. and Mrs. J. T. Longworth, Belmont Avenue, and Mr. Floyd Frank, son of Mr. and Mrs. H. Frank, Terrace, B.C. Mr. G. H. Peaker presided at the organ, and during the signing of the register Miss Marion Mitchell sang "All Joy Be Thine."

The bride, who was given away by her father, was a pretty picture in a floor-length frock of white net over taffeta with full sleeves and a net girdle trimmed with flowers, and a small white turban outlined with flowers beneath a short veil. She carried a large colonial bouquet of pink roses.

Miss Queenie Prior, the bridesmaid, wore a frock of pink satin with long sleeves, and an off-the-face hat of pink net with a shoulder veil. She carried a smaller colonial posy of pink roses. Mr. Bernard Prior was best man, and Mr. Louis Prior was usher. Ferns and gladioli formed a delightful background for the ceremony.

A small reception was held after the service at the home of the bride's parents. The decorations were carried out in pink and white, the bride and groom standing before a fireplace banked with gladioli to receive their friends. Mrs. Longworth was dressed in a smart navy blue redingote frock and a matching hat, and wore a corsage bouquet of roses. A four-tiered cake centred the flower-bedecked supper table.

After a honeymoon on the mainland, Mr. and Mrs. Frank will live at Terrace. The bride went away in a navy blue and white polka dot redingote outfit, with navy accessories.

Suffered Injuries Rescuing Kittens

DAYTONE, Ore. (AP)—Mrs. Fred Reichstein climbed to a woodshed roof to rescue a litter of kittens from a vicious tomcat. Her arms full of kittens, she slipped from a ladder, broke her ankle and suffered a brain concussion. The kittens were not injured.

White Rajah Says Daughters Not Princesses

LONDON—The following statement was issued by Sir Charles Vyner Brooke, the white Rajah of Sarawak, Borneo:

"Although the report about the 'fantastic publicity' of my two youngest daughters having an undesirable effect on the natives of my state is somewhat exaggerated, I may mention that it is of constant annoyance to the natives and to myself that my daughters should be referred to as 'princesses.'"

"This title is a pure fabrication; a slogan which has been used and used and misused until not only our country but every country in the world is heartily sick of the sound of Sarawak."

PREVIOUS NAMES

"I wish to state definitely here and now that none of my daughters is a princess. Before they married, their names were: Miss Leonora Margaret Brooke, Miss Elizabeth Brooke, Miss Nancy Valerie Brooke."

"At least, that is what they were christened."

"We have done our best to try to put a stop to the statements which have been pouring in from California and New York, but we are helpless in the hands of this undignified sensationalism some people make use of as publicity."

"I would be extremely obliged if people would realize once and for all that there are no such people as Princess Gold, Princess Pearl, and Princess Baba, but that I have three daughters whose names are:

"The Countess of Incheape, Mrs. Harry Roy, Mrs. Bob Gregory."

Social and Personal

Mr. and Mrs. George Whiting of Winnipeg are holidaying here, guests of Mrs. Whiting's parents, Mr. and Mrs. John Allan, 2747 Graham Street.

Mr. and Mrs. A. R. Griffiths and their sons, Robert and Lorne, of Modesto, California, are visiting Mr. Griffiths' parents, Mr. and Mrs. M. Griffiths, 1630 Burton Avenue, and Mrs. Griffiths' mother, Mrs. H. Turner, 114 Douglas Street.

Among the Victoria guests at the dance given aboard H.M.S. York in Vancouver on Friday evening were: Miss Norah Wilson, who is the guest of her brother-in-law and sister, Mr. and Mrs. Gordon Money, while in the mainland city, and Miss Marnie Wright, who returned to her home, Beresford Place, this afternoon.

Miss Kathleen Williams, who is to be married shortly to Mr. Ian Phillips, was the guest of honor when Miss Marjorie Hughes entertained at a coffee party yesterday morning at her home on Chamberlain Street. The guests included Mrs. Walter Stenner, Mrs. Tom Denny, Misses Molly Barber-Starkie, Peggy Macdonald, Isabel Benson, Marjorie Beedham, K. Unsworth, Marianne Fraser, Gretchen Johnson and Bette Hughes.

In honor of Miss Bessie Pye, whose wedding will take place early next month, the Misses Judith Pearce, Mary Taylor and Marjorie Ferris were joint hostesses at a shower given recently at the residence of Miss Pearce, Cambridge Street. Miss Ferris presented the bride-to-be with a corsage of pink carnations and violets with the linen gifts. Miss Dorothy Warnock assisted in serving. The invited guests were Mrs. Mable Thornbury, Mrs. Helen Cockin, Mrs. Bernice Whitworth, Miss Doris Burton, Miss Dorothy Warnock, Miss Bessie Robertson, Miss Myne Baker and Miss Patricia Penock.

"Marraine" Will Visit Local Veterans

Miss Jenny Morris of London Coming; "Princess Pats" Friend

OTTAWA (CP)—Former members of the Princess Patricia's Canadian Light Infantry were anticipating with pleasure the visit to Canada of their war-time "Marraine," Jenny Morris. She will reach Montreal on the St. Antonio, August 21, and will be in Ottawa from August 23 to 25. The itinerary of Miss Morris calls for a stay in Toronto from August 26 to 30. She will travel by easy stages to Victoria and will return to England via New York on the Queen Mary. Throughout her visit Miss Morris will be guest of "Pat" veterans.

The plan to make it possible for this kindly Scottish lady to come to Canada originated with the Ottawa branch of the Patricia's club and was warmly taken up by the branches throughout the country.

During the war the home of Miss Morris and her mother, at 34 Bedford Place, Russell Square, was "open house" to hundreds of the Patricia's while on leave. "Buck privates and officers could meet here with freedom and perfect ease," said one member of the regiment here. "If the troops wanted to stay up most of the night, Jenny stayed up too."

"No matter how late a straggler came in Jenny received him in her knowing way, and no questions were asked. If clothes needed mending, Jenny mended them. If a little motherly advice was asked about intimate affairs of the heart—and some of those lads who would attack a concrete pillbox or a nest of machine guns single-handed were very ill at ease when suddenly confronted by some feminine society on leave in London town—Jenny could be depended on to give wise counsel."

Throughout the years hundreds of the Patricia's veterans have kept in touch with Jenny, who, annually on Armistice Day, has placed a wreath on the cenotaph at Whitehall in memory of the fallen of the regiment.

"Now the hope of every soldier who ever stayed at 34 Bedford Place, to bring Jenny to Canada, is being fulfilled," commented the Patricia's veteran.

Modern Etiquette

Gypsy Brides at Bargain Prices

BELGRADE, Yugoslavia (AP)—Gypsy brides are going at bargain prices this year.

A report from the annual Gypsy festivities at Kraljevo, Serbia, said a vivacious brunette brought the highest bid of $6.40. Other brides went for as low as $3.60 and $4.

These prices were considerably lower than those paid in previous years to parents of marriageable daughters.

Dionne Wants Quints at Home

Father Would Give Up Souvenir Business to Live With Babies

TORONTO (CP)—The Toronto Globe and Mail says today in a copyright story from North Bay, Ont., that Olivia Dionne, father of the quintuplets, says he would be willing to give up his business of selling souvenirs and to submit himself and the rest of his family to the same restrictions imposed on the quintuplets if he were allowed to live in a new home with his famous daughters.

The quintuplets' guardians will meet in nearby North Bay tomorrow to decide whether Annette, Cecile, Marie, Yvonne and Emile will within the next year leave their present home, Dafoe Hospital, across the road from the Dionne farm home, for a new one in an enlarged park area somewhere in the parish of Corbeil or in a new home with their parents.

Following a conference of the guardians last May, it was reported it had been decided to build a new home for the four-year-old girls in which they would be reunited with their family. It was indicated today the decisions taken last May had not been definite.

Indian Trades $40 Tent for Baby Son

ELDORADO, Northwest Territory—Old Jimmy Soldat thinks there is nothing cruel or funny about his trading a $40 tent for an Eskimo baby.

The 54-year-old chief of the wandering Hare Indians wanted a son of his own, because seven of his eight children are dead of tuberculosis and doctors say the eighth will not live.

So when a bunch of starved Eskimos straggled into LaBine Point on Great Bear Lake, old Jimmy began negotiating for the slant-eyed baby. The penniless and sick mother was barely able to continue north herself—and the bargain was made.

Now Jimmy turns up almost daily at the radium mine camp here to sell Arctic herring to the cook so that he can buy powdered milk and clothes for his new son.

It makes no difference to Jimmy that the Hare Indians and the Eskimos are traditional enemies; he hopes that this son who looks so different will live where the others have died.

And no one here has told him Eskimos are even more susceptible to tuberculosis than are Indians.

More Problem Boys Than Girls

NEW YORK (CP)—Boys outnumbered girls two to one in the total of "problem children" treated by the Child Guidance Bureau of New York City schools, according to the report of the Department of Education.

The cause of this wide differential was attributed, in part, to the sympathetic treatment girls receive from teachers, and in part, to the inclination of girls to hide personality disturbances.

The report shows that nearly 75 per cent of "problem children" taken under the bureau's wing, had been helped to satisfactory or partial adjustment of neurosis and other psychiatric, psychological and physical troubles.

Five years ago the department of education inaugurated the Child Guidance Bureau which in addition to treating children for various disaffections, undertakes to train teachers and parents to detect many causes of youthful disturbances.

Case studies were cited to show the important bearing home conditions have on a child's school progress. A boy of nine, normally brilliant who failed constantly, was found to be the butt of a bitter feud between his mother and grandmother who lived with them. When the situation was cleared up the boy became a model pupil.

Parental harshness was found to handicap many boys and girls. Repressed at home, the children sought emotional release at school. The reverse was often the case where teachers attempted to wield more discipline than the parents. The report also found a high correlation between malnutrition and mental defects, and suggested that since school failure is often the forerunner of misbehavior, malnutrition should be detected and remedied at once.

Children entering school for the first time are in need of careful attention and handling. In the early grades the teacher becomes a mother-substitute and depending upon the child's upbringing, the teacher becomes either a sympathetic friend or a bitter enemy.

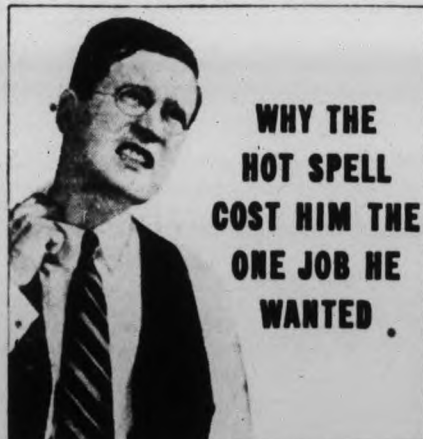

"The extent to which it is possible to improve the conduct of children is determined by the degree to which it is possible to change the attitudes and methods of training used by adults," the report concluded.

WHY THE HOT SPELL COST HIM THE ONE JOB HE WANTED.

DON'T FEEL SO BADLY ABOUT IT, JIM. BUT I CAN'T UNDERSTAND IT! LAST WINTER WHEN THEY SPOKE OF OPENING A FLORIDA OFFICE, THEY SAID THEY WOULD MAKE ME MANAGER.

I KNOW IT'S A BIG DISAPPOINTMENT, BUT IT ISN'T YOUR FAULT, JIM! MAYBE IT IS MY FAULT. I'M GOING TO ASK THEM.

NEXT DAY IT'S NOT THAT WE DIDN'T THINK YOU CAPABLE, BUT YOU SEE, THE MANAGER OF OUR FLORIDA OFFICE WILL COME INTO CONTACT WITH MANY OF OUR MOST IMPORTANT CLIENTS. YES?

WELL, YOU'RE NOT ALWAYS AS CAREFUL AS YOU MIGHT BE, JIM... I MEAN IT'S SO EASY TO OFFEND... ESPECIALLY IN THIS HOT WEATHER... MIND IF I SUGGEST LIFEBOUY?

—THANKS TO THE CHIEF'S HINT ABOUT "B.O."—HERE WE ARE ON OUR WAY TO THAT FLORIDA JOB! YES, BUT THE REAL THANKS GOES TO LIFEBOUY.

I COUNT ON LIFEBOUY TO KEEP ME FRESH AND DAINTY...EVEN IN HOTTEST WEATHER

Says INA HOLMSTROM, SUCCESSFUL YOUNG BUSINESS WOMAN, of St. Paul, Minn.

"I'm in a whirl all day, and I wouldn't dream of depending on ordinary soap to keep me fresh. No ordinary soap stops 'B.O.' as Lifebuoy does. And when I get home after a tiring day, nothing picks me up as much as my soothing, sudsy Lifebuoy bath!"

Everybody perspires—especially on hot days! Thanks to its exclusive purifying ingredient, Lifebuoy in your daily bath keeps you safe from "B.O." Try it! A LEVER PRODUCT

Navy Men Prefer Pennies to Rum

The navy may still cling closer to traditions than any other branch of the service but the observance of some is becoming a little strained it was learned when H.M.S. York was in Victoria.

One of the departures from tradition applies to the rum ration. The old custom of serving the morning tot from a great wooden keg inscribed in big brass letters God Save the King, still prevails. The petty officers and higher rankings are entitled to pure rum. Men below them must be satisfied with grog or rum diluted with water. However, the rum parade is not as representative as it was in olden days. Now there is an allowance of three pence per day for men who do not take the rum ration. Most of them take the money instead of the rum.

The old days when the bugler stood on the forecastle so that the warning notes might float all over the ship have gone. Now he just toots into a microphone and the music goes round and round through a loud speaker system to every part of the ship.

By PETE SALLAWAY

ELWOOD T. COOKE is far and away the best story of the current major tennis campaign. From away down there at the bottom of the United States ranking ladder, the 28th and last rung, things are definitely looking up for the little fireball from Portland. Cooke is well known in Victoria, having competed in several tournaments at the Victoria Lawn Tennis Club.

His immediate ambition is the United States Davis Cup team. He will not realize the wish this year, but he's definitely assured of a first 10 ranking. It was in the competition for the historic Seabright Challenge Bowl that the 21-year-old Cooke served notice on top-ranking stars.

Robert L. Riggs was letter perfect in the final. Only Don Budge among the amateurs could have coped with the Chicagoan's amazing retrieving and all-court game. Riggs attained his peak to beat Cooke, 6-1, 6-3, 6-1, but the latter stepped on some very prominent and red necks in getting to the final.

Renowned players to feel the brunt of the Oregonian's steady game were Frankie Parker and Wilmer Allison. Parker, Davis Cup singles luminary of 1937, ranked No. 3, and second-seeded, was repelled, 7-5, 6-2. Allison, who repulsed Fred Perry to acquire the United States crown in 1935, succumbed, 6-3, 6-4, 6-4.

Cooke is a tennis repair man who made good on the courts. In 1936, he became a familiar figure at Portland's public tennis courts, not only as a player, but for his complete tennis repair shop rigged up in an old truck.

Cooke barely stands five feet six inches in tennis shoes and weighs considerably under 150 pounds.

Portland first took notice of him when he joined the famous Irvington Tennis Club seven years ago. At the same time, the home town folks also heard about Cooke's companion who hiked up the tennis ladder a little faster.

Sabin now has sixth United States ranking. He and Cooke were teammates at a Portland high school. In the Pacific northwest, it got to be quite the custom for Cooke and Sabin to enter all tournaments, with Cooke turning back Sabin in the end. Then when the pair entered the Portland City and Oregon State championships, Sabin defeated Cooke.

In face of the stern competition California sends north each summer, it wasn't until 1936 that Cooke was able to cop the Oregon State.

Cooke and Sabin are striking examples of the fact that the lack of continuous sunshine is not necessarily a fatal handicap in the development of first rate tennis players. In Portland, they still talk about the time that the pair, determined to play despite the weather, cleared snow from a Portland court.

Unheard of nationally two years ago, Cooke, son of a railroad signalman, was not given national ranking until he left home in the fall of 1936 for California winter tournaments. He made his eastern bow last summer, performed in California last winter, and hit the tournament loop again this spring.

Stamina, confidence, and ambition are Cooke's tennis virtues. No player ever strived harder for perfection. He plays at top speed every minute.

Noses Out Timmins 1 to 0 in Canadian Soccer; Play Again Today

WINNIPEG (CP)—Two youngsters from the shores of the Pacific today are accepting the plaudits that go to all athletic heroes.

Basil Robinson, short and stocky, and Trevor Harvey, tall and husky, sparked a determined Vancouver North Shore United eleven to a 1 to 0 victory over Timmins Dome Mines here Saturday and forced a fourth game in the struggle for Canada's football championship.

Victims of this pair's inspired play, Timmins showed little of the form that brought them a 3 to 1 win in the second game Friday. Their tricky passing attack was missing and they appeared listless.

Deciding game of the series will be played today with overtime if necessary. First game was tied 1 to 1.

Robinson netted the only goal of Saturday. To Harvey was assigned the task of stopping the leader of Dome's attack, centre-forward George Chambers. The 1 to 0 score is proof of his success.

ATTACK HANDICAPPED
Dome's clever centre seldom gained possession of the ball, so close was Harvey's vigilance. The Dome passing attack, with its pivot thus handicapped, never functioned.

Both teams came out of the rugged encounter in good condition. Only injury was suffered by George Munro, Dome half-back who was struck squarely in the face by a free kick by Lip-trott. He retired to the sidelines but was expected to be in the lineup today.

Lone goal of the game came three minutes before the first half ended. Alec Christie laid a perfect corner kick in front of the Dome goal and the alert Robinson headed it past Goalie Jack Baxter.

The west coast eleven controlled fully 75 per cent of the play, attacking continuously and holding the ball inside the Dome area for minutes at a time.

In the second half the easterners did not get a shot on goal. John Rabbit in the Vancouver nets until 35 minutes had elapsed. Baxter played a splendid game in the Dome net.

North Shore carried the attack in both halves. Mike McManus, Jimmy Spencer and Christie missed countless scoring opportunities, either shooting wildly or overrunning the ball.

Dome, needing only a draw to clinch the championship, played cautiously in the first half and after Robinson's goal could not organize successful attacks.

Terrific heat beat down on the players during the game and the younger, better conditioned westerners bore the extra burden more successfully than the veteran Dome club.

Richardson and Woolf Set Down

DEL MAR, Calif.—As an aftermath of the riotous match race here Friday in which Sabiscuit defeated Ligarotti by a head, Jockeys George Woolf and Noel Richardson were meted out suspensions Saturday.

The pair, who turned the race into a rough riding duel, were set down for the duration of the Del Mar Turf Club meeting and the stewards recommended the suspension last until December 31.

The California Horse Racing Board, to which this suggestion was directed, has, with exception, been attentive to similar requests. Sabiscuit, one of the country's greatest money winners, set a new record in adding the winter take-all prize of $25,000 to its earnings. The time was 1:49 flat for the mile and one-eighth.

Share Honors At Auto Races

B. Sutton, Victoria, and J. Spaulding, Seattle, Win Feature Events

Some of the most thrilling and clever driving ever seen around Victoria was presented on Saturday night when Bert Sutton, local ace, and Jack Spaulding, Seattle star, shared, honors in another popular international automobile racing meet at the Langford Speedway.

Approximately 1,800 thrill-craving fans were on hand to take in the many spectacular events which were packed full of speed, spins and general excitement.

Leading off the evening of action, Jud Taylor, daring and capable pilot from Seattle, had the fans on their toes when he cracked up in the first lap of the initial event—the helmet dash. Taylor and Sutton zoomed past the green flag to start the five-lap race at a neck breaking speed. The two fought for the lead neck and neck up to the third corner when Taylor's car cracked into Sutton's, leaped into the air, turned over and came crashing down with the wheels spinning. Miraculously enough, Taylor came out of it with only slight lacerations to his back. The car suffered a damaged manifold and carburetor.

The event was rerun with Sutton nosing out Spaulding in 1 minute 40 seconds flat. Lou McMurry, Seattle, finished a close third.

SPAUDLING STARS

Spaulding starred in the 20-lap main event against a field of eight cars, by snatching the honors from Sutton, who held the lead for 15 laps. Sutton fought his way to the front from the start and was sitting pretty on the big car into top place on the 18th circuit and held it until the checkered flag dropped. Sutton was close in second place, Jimmy Symes, Seattle, was third and Fred "Tarant" Carson, Victoria, fourth. The time was 6 minutes 56.4 seconds. Near crashes were numerous in this event.

The first heat race ended in a thrilling finish with Sutton on top again. Spaulding once more worried the local favorite, but to no avail. McMurry finished third with Spaulding a few feet ahead and Sutton not much more in the lead. The time for the 10-lap event was 3:21.4.

McMurry placed himself on top in the second heat race finishing in 3 minutes 25.3 seconds. Jimmy Symes was in second, beat by a whisker and "Digger" Caldwell close third. Bob Wensley, Victoria pilot in a new job of Jack Taylor's had the fans excited by his attempts to get up to the front.

Jack Spaulding won from Bert Sutton in a five-lap challenge event with a time of 1:40.3. The race was fast and furious with both contestants pouring on all they had.

Caldwell came through in the third heat race over Carson by a time of 3:40 flat. Jimmy Laird conked out in a wild spin on the third lap, after presenting his bids for honors.

Sutton finished first in an all-local car event with Caldwell second. Laird was third. The time was 3:33.3.

Malahat Indians In Second Place

COULEVILLE, Wash. (AP)—The Lone Eagle canoe of the Nooksack tribe won the international war canoe championship at the annual Indian water festival here yesterday.

The brawny copper paddlers of the Nooksack clan hoisted their heavy dugout over the three-mile course in 17 minutes 30 seconds.

The Salmon Arrow of the Malahat tribe of British Columbia was second. The West Saanich, Duncan, B.C., was third.

Other finishers in order: Flying Cloud, upper Skagit tribe; Susie-Q, Swinomish tribe; Song-hee, Victoria, B.C.; Quillayute, Lapush; Twenty Grand, Lapush; Standing Cloud, Barrington; Kingfisher, Quinalt.

Approximately 1,500 Indians, representing 20 northwest tribes, attended the colorful three-day festival.

GIANTS WIN TWO

Despite the victory, Pittsburgh's lead was clipped to 4½ games as New York Giants romped to a double victory over the Phillies, 11 to 0 and 14 to 6. Besides their own 34 hits, the

While the "pep" boys, Lee Handley and Pep Young, and Mace Brown, the great rescuer of the Pittsburgh mount staff, have earned and received plenty of credit, perhaps the main reason why the Pirates are holding onto the National League baseball lead is because Johnny Rizzo can knock them out of the park.

Rizzo has proved to Pittsburgh fans that the New York Yankees theory—there's no argument like a home run—is hard to beat. Last season the Bucs hit only 47 homers all season. This year they have 42 to date with 53 games still to play. And an even dozen of them have come from rookie Rizzo's bat.

Johnny provided the big poke yesterday with that 12th homer to help beat the third-place Chicago Cubs, 2 to 0, after Gabby Hartnett's wrecking crew had won the first two games of the series. The rest were in there working, too, for Brown had to rescue Russ Bauers with two on and none out in the ninth and the Bucs' infield pulled its fifth double play to cut off the threat.

Sutton finished first in an all-local car event with Caldwell second. Laird was third. The time was 3:33.3.

Bearded Men To Play Ball Here

Colored House of David Meet Victoria All-stars Tomorrow Night

The baseball public will be treated to something really highly entertaining tomorrow night at the Athletic Park when those colored, bewhiskered clowns of the baseball lot, known as the House of David, invade the city for an exhibition tussle with the Victoria All-stars. It will start at 6.

Over a period of years Victorians have seen the white members of the house of bearded brethren play high-class basketball here against the Victoria Dominos, and if their colored brethren's performances on the diamond are half as good as the maplewood court exhibitions, those who attend tomorrow night should see a good show.

On a barnstorming trip across Canada, the Davidians are reported to be classy ball-tossers and get plenty of laughs from the fans with the comedy they inject into their exhibitions. Incidentally don't be surprised if a couple of members of the visiting team open up with some "rug-cutting" exhibitions. A number of the boys are real classy "jitterbug" artists and can make some of these so-called Suez and shag experts look like they had two left feet.

The tourists have been attracting big crowds throughout their tour.

BEAT PORT TOWNSEND

In a double-header attraction at the Athletic Park Saturday, the Victoria All-stars proved themselves far superior to the visiting Port Townsend club. They emerged with victories in both matches, taking the afternoon game by a 14 to 5 decision, and the evening match by a 10 to 2 score. The brand of ball played by the visitors was far below the standard expected from them.

In the afternoon game, Victoria got 12 hits and made them good for 14 runs, and in the evening fixture made eight hits good for 10 runs. Walker, Rowe and McLeod hurried for the All-stars in the afternoon game, and Lloyd Cann did the night heaving for the local side.

A dozen members of the Victoria Skeet and Gun Club journeyed over to Port Angeles yesterday where they were guests of the straits' city club for the day.

Three of the local shots brought back prizes with them. Johnny Wenger was high in the singles and handicap trapshooting events, while Ernie Todd was runner-up in the singles and H. Hasenfratz was runner-up in the handicap shot. Other members who attended were: Dr. A. D. Bechtel, Elbeek Wilson, E. Hasenfratz, Frank Cross, Bill Russell, Ted McFeely and E. McAnally.

Bob Hooper And Mary O'Hara Win

VANCOUVER (CP)—Youthful Bobby Hooper and 'teen-age Mary O'Hara of Vancouver will represent British Columbia in the Canadian Wrigley mile swimming championships at Toronto August 29 this year.

Hooper, 20-year-old member of the Canadian swimming team at this year's British Empire Games, scored an easy victory over three Vancouver entries here Saturday defending his British Columbia title. It was also an easy win for Mary, present western Canadian Wrigley mile women's titleholder. She finished nearly 100 yards ahead of her two Vancouver competitors.

Quist Beats Yamagishi For Victory

Wins Over Japanese Star Is Unexpected; Bromwich Defaults

MONTREAL (CP)—Bronzed Adrian Quist carried Australia into the interzone finals of Davis Cup play yesterday with a four-set victory over Jiro Yamagishi that gave the Anzacs their North American series with Japan three matches to two.

The Anzac veteran, rising to the peak of his game, blasted aside the favored Japanese ace 6-4, 6-4, 2-6, 9-7. The Nipponese gained their second point of the draw in the concluding match when Jack Bromwich defaulted to Fumiteru Nakano with the score 12-12 in the fifth set. Nakano had won the first set 6-1, Bromwich the second by the same score, Nakano the third 6-4 and Bromwich the fourth 6-3.

The Australians now will play Germany, European zone winner, in a series starting in Boston later this week. The winner will advance into the challenge round against the cup-holding United States team.

SURPRISE WIN

Few had expected Quist to defeat Yamagishi. The Australians' third point, most observers believed, would come in the Bromwich-Nakano match. But the capacity crowd of more than 3,000 sensed an upset when Quist came from behind to win the first set 6-4.

Yamagishi went ahead 4-1 in the second and seemed to have found his game, but Quist, playing his finest tennis under pressure, took the next five games and the set. The impassive Japanese rallied gamely to win the third 6-2.

Yamagishi couldn't break down the durable man from down under in the fourth set, however, and at the fourth match point of the 16th game a smash that bounced high into the stands gave Quist his victory and Australia the series.

The second match, though only an exhibition so far as the series standing was concerned, was closer fought than the first. Nakano was ahead of Bromwich most of the way but couldn't quite find the punch to carry him to a conclusive victory.

After battling through 24 evenly-divided games in the fifth set, Bromwich went into conference with Aussie captain Harry Hopman and decided to default. With nothing depending on the outcome and with the end still not in sight, the Australians figured there was no use wasting further reserve strength.

Bromwich and Quist paired brilliantly Saturday to win the doubles in straight sets, turning back Nakano and Yamagishi 6-2, 6-4, 6-3.

Track and Field Workout Tomorrow

Coach Archie McKinnon announced this morning that all Flying "Y" track and field members and any interested are urged to turn out tomorrow evening at 6:15 at the Victoria High School campus. The workout will be in preparation for the B.C. men's and women's track and field championship meet on Labor Day at Nanaimo.

Jimmy Todd Not Defending Title

When the British Columbia open golf championship opens at the Shaughnessy Club, Vancouver, on Thursday, Jimmy Todd, Victoria's ranking amateur star and holder of the crown, will not defend his title.

Todd, who won the provincial open from a smart field at the Victoria Club last year, stated today he would be unable to make the trip to the mainland. Todd recently returned from London, Ont., where he took part in the Willingdon Cup interprovincial team match and the Canadian amateur championship.

Island Tennis Champs Named

Susie Milne, Vancouver, and Bob Carruthers, Coronado, Cal., Win

DUNCAN—Susie Milne, Vancouver, and Bob Carruthers, Coronado, California, held Vancouver Island singles championships today, following hard-fought victories in tennis finals played at Duncan Saturday.

Carruthers came up after dropping the first set to Arthur Marx to win the men's title, 1-6, 6-3, 6-3, 7-5.

Miss Milne overcame Peggy Hocking in three keenly-fought sets. The Vancouver girl took the first 6-3, dropped the second 5-7 and came back in a blistering third to win 7-5.

Carruthers and Marx teamed to beat J. C. I. Edwards, Victoria, and Eric Loney, Duncan, 7-5, 6-1, 6-3.

In the women's doubles Mrs. J. C. I. Edwards and Peggy Hocking, Victoria, won by default from Susie Milne, Vancouver, and Kay Staples, Duncan. Miss Staples was suffering from a crushed finger and could not play.

Marx and Miss Milne took one set from Helen Wright and Carruthers before their mixed doubles final was rained out and the prize divided.

RIZZO'S HOME RUN WINS FOR PIRATES

Giants got the benefit of 14 passes and 10 Philly errors.

The Yankees stretched their American League margin to 7½ games over Cleveland by turning back the Philadelphia Athletics twice, 4 to 3 and 9 to 2, while the Cleveland Indians came through with a single 6 to 4 decision over the Chicago White Sox. The real feature of the American League day, however, was the one-hit game hurled by Buck Newsom of St. Louis.

Newsom, the Brown's one successful flinger, whiffed 12 Detroit batters and granted only one single, to George Tebbets, in beating the Tigers, 7 to 1, in a doubleheader opener. Detroit came back to earn a 3 to 3, nine-inning tie in the nightcap.

The Yanks made good use of their favorite weapon, the homer, to beat the A's. Lou Gehrig smacked one in each game and Bill Dickey in the first, and George Selkirk broke up the opener by hitting for four bases in the ninth inning Cleveland followed suit against the White Sox as circuit swats by Ken Keltner and Earl Averill made up for the fact they had to use four pitchers.

Washington drove Boston Red Sox a little deeper into third place with a 7 to 1 victory, engineered by Harry Kelley, who hurled five-hit ball and drove in three tallies.

Good pitching marked a pair of divided National League bargain bills. Fred Fitzsimmons hurled a three-hitter to give Brooklyn a 2 to 0 decision over Boston, then Lou Pette won his eighth straight, 6 to 4. Paul Derringer chalked up his 15th victory for Cincinnati, 5 to 4 over St. Louis, but the Cards' Clyde Shoun repelled with six-hit flinging and Ducky Medwick socked a homer to take the nightcap, 8 to 1.

COAST LEAGUE

San Francisco Seals moved from fifth to third place in the Coast Baseball League today after a demonstration by young Ted Norbert showed why he's the reigning home-run king of the circuit.

Seals punched out a pair of wins over Seattle yesterday, 9 to 1 and 3 to 0, with a homer in each game by Norbert leading the way. Frankie Hawkins added another circuit clout.

Los Angeles Angels increased their league leadership to three full games although they split a twin bill with Hollywood Stars.

Angels punched out 12 hits, including a homer by Johnny Moore, to walk off with the opener, 3 to 2. In the second game Stars scored one run on three hits in the second inning to blank Angels, 1 to 0. Second-place Sacramento dropped further behind by losing two to Portland Beavers, 4 to 2 and 7 to 2.

Oakland A's and San Diego Padres split a twin bill yesterday. In the opener each team got 14 hits, but the score favored San Diego, 10 to 6. In the nightcap pitcher Jack Lindell helped his own cause by smacking a homer in the third inning after one run had been scored. It gave Oaks a 2 to 1 win.

Bowlers From Nanaimo Star

Capture Three Major Trophies in B.C. Tournament Finals

VANCOUVER—Nanaimo bowlers carried off three major trophies in the sixteenth annual British Columbia Lawn Bowling Association tournament, which concluded here Saturday. The Islanders were the only aggregation to cop more than one piece of silverware, outstanding achievement against over 600 of the finest bowlers in the Pacific Coast.

Johnny Gavin, the diminutive player from the coal city, captured the Chambers silverware when he won the champion of champions singles final by beating R. L. Dickey Williams of the North Vancouver Club, 21-18. Joe Barton's rink, skipper by Johnny Christie, took the Francis Bowser Trophy, premier rink over Pat J. Campbell's Cedar Cottage quartette, and Joe English and Jimmy Cram secured the Oakland Doubles Trophy by an 18-17 victory over Peter Trousdale and Dick Adam of Terminal.

W. S. "Bill" Young's rink from Oakland made the first holders of the John Jenkinson Memorial Trophy when they beat Arthur Baker's Nanaimo rink in the B section final, 18-11.

New Hockey Pact Made

TORONTO (CP)—A working agreement is in force between the Canadian Amateur Hockey Association and the National Hockey League, similar to one in effect until last year, but making provision against "raids" on the Dominion's players by English and United States clubs.

The new agreement was reached at a conference here Saturday between C.A.H.A. and N.H.L. officials. It deals the rift caused a year ago when the amateur hockey organization declined to continue its agreement with the N.H.L. which had been in effect for several years.

Written into the new agreement is a clause by which the C.A.H.A. agrees not to allow any of its players "who are on the reserve, negotiation and try-out lists of the N.H.L. to be transferred outside the boundaries of Canada."

PROVISIONS

The agreement provides:

"Both bodies will use the same playing rules.

"Both bodies will recognize each other's suspensions.

"The N.H.L. agrees not to take junior players from C.A.H.A. clubs without the latter's consent.

"The N.H.L. agrees not to sign players from any C.A.H.A. club during competition.

"The C.A.H.A. agrees not to allow any of its players who are on the reserve, negotiation and try-out lists of the N.H.L. to be transferred outside the boundaries of Canada."

The C.A.H.A. was represented at the meeting by George Dudley, Midland, Ont.; Frank Sargent, Port Arthur; W. A. Hewitt, Toronto, and Dr. W. G. Harth of Edmonton, association president.

The N.H.L. committee was composed of president Frank Calder, Montreal; Art Ross, Boston, and Conny Smythe, Toronto.

Editors Invade Victoria

Operators of Weeklies From All Parts of Canada Enjoy Brief Visit to City.

Editors and proprietors of weekly newspapers from all parts of Canada came to Victoria yesterday for rest and relaxation after a strenuous convention in Vancouver.

There were 181 persons in the party, which included wives and daughters. Women editors from small towns on the prairies were among the visitors. One member of the party was from Newfoundland.

As they came ashore from Ss. Princess Marguerite in the Inner Harbor they were met by James Tait and Hugh MacCallum of the Colonist and Kenneth C. Drury of the Times. They immediately boarded a fleet of buses and were taken on a two-hour drive as guests of the local newspapers.

On their way to the Butchart Gardens they went to the top of Little Saanich Mountain and inspected the Astrophysical Observatory and marveled at the wonderful view of lower Vancouver Island that unfolded before them.

TOOK MANY PICTURES

At "Benvenuto" they were received by Mr. and Mrs. R. P. Butchart in the house and later wandered around the grounds, taking many pictures that will be shown this winter to audiences in the country towns and villages from one end of Canada to the other.

On their way back to town the visitors were driven over the East Saanich Road, so that they might see some of the finest farms of that section.

Their evening in Victoria was left free at their express wish. They had dinner at various places in small groups and later walked through the grounds of the Empress Hotel and the Parliament Buildings and expressed their delight at the tiny lights that illuminated both buildings.

Most of the visitors left at midnight for Vancouver, although a number were still in town this morning and were to leave for the mainland some time today.

The complete list of those in the party follows:

Delegates making the trip include 18 from Manitoba, four from Nova Scotia, seven from New Brunswick, one from Prince Edward Island, one from Newfoundland, nine from Quebec, 22 from Alberta, 44 from Saskatchewan, 54 from Ontario, and 17 from British Columbia. A complete list follows:

IN TOWN TODAY

After the busiest weekend of the summer, the Empress Hotel staff settled down this morning to cater to senior golfers from all over the Pacific Northwest and newspaper proprietors and editors from all parts of Canada; organized four parties from England, France and eastern United States and individuals from all parts of the world.

The main lounge was abuzz all morning as the veterans, attired in golf togs, left for the links, their wives remaining in town for shopping expeditions. Those newspaper people who did not leave for Vancouver last night spent the morning at the Parliament Buildings — in the Archives, Library and Museum, gathering material for stories they will write on British Columbia for their country readers.

A Canadian Pacific Across-Canada tour party, in charge of W. H. Hannant of London, arrived this morning from France and England. They had an early breakfast and then started sightseeing. The 13 persons in the party will remain here until Wednesday.

Two Gillespie, Kingport and Beard tour parties from Boston met at the Empress today. One arrived yesterday and left for Vancouver today; the other arrived from Seattle today and will proceed to Vancouver tomorrow.

Many well-known Seattle and Vancouver people arrived Saturday to week-end in the city. Among them were Mrs. Thomas Bordeaux, Seattle; Misses Constance and Mary Darling, Vancouver; Mrs. John P. Hausman and Mrs. F. D. Hammons, Seattle; Mr. and Mrs. H. A. Rhodes, Seattle; Mr. and Mrs. M. A. Arnold, Seattle; Mr. and Mrs. W. L. Bilger, Seattle; Dr. and Mrs. W. M. McKinney, Seattle; J. H. Ballinger, Volney Richmond, Dr. and Mrs. C. S. Moody and Dr. and Mrs. H. E. Allan, all of Seattle.

From other parts of British Columbia and the northwest came Mr. and Mrs. W. G. Terhan, Rossland; Mr. and Mrs. G. W. Griffiths, Vernon; Dr. and Mrs. G. H. Pease, Portland; Mr. and Mrs. E. P. Demens and Mr. and Mrs. H. Wylie, Port Alberni.

Judge C. R. Mitchell of Edmonton arrived yesterday on his annual vacation visit to the Pacific Coast. Mr. and Mrs. James Clemens, socially prominent residents of West Acton, Mass., registered Thieves who entered the home of G. J. Burnett, 606 Niagara Street, Saturday night stole between $5 and $6 and left matches strewn around the house, Mr. Burnett reported to police yesterday.

To respect the memory of Trustee John Wallace, who passed away suddenly last week, the City School Board meeting, scheduled for tonight has been postponed. The date for the meeting has not been set.

Rev. Hugo Spitzer and Mrs. Spitzer, missionary superintendents of the Western Canada Mission to the Jews, will address a meeting at Emmanuel Baptist Church, on Wednesday evening at 8. All interested in the Jews will be welcome.

Cars driven by Fred Woodrow, 69 Lurline Road, and James McCabe, 741 Fiskard Street, were involved in a collision at Douglas Street and Princess Avenue last night at 9, a police report said. Both cars were damaged but there were no personal injuries.

George McGregor, J.P., presided over the City Police Court this morning during the absence of Magistrate Hall on vacation. A light list, consisting chiefly of traffic cases was completed. Four motorists were fined $2.50 each for parking violations, a fifth was fined $5 for driving over a fire hose.

E. O. MacGinnis has been appointed secretary to Hon. K. C. MacDonald, B.C. Minister of Agriculture. He takes the place of F. W. Laing, who retired at the beginning of the year. Mr. MacGinnis resigned a post of secretary of the Lower Mainland Dairy Marketing Board to become Dr. MacDonald's secretary. He was formerly a newspaperman in the Okanagan.

W. S. Villers, Sidney, and Francis E. Nelson, Seattle, were drivers of cars which collided at Quadra Street and Hillside Avenue Saturday afternoon. A police report said Mrs. Villers suffered shock and her daughter, Dorothy, was cut over the eye. Both received attention from Charles Burr, a nearby druggist. Both cars were reported damaged considerably.

A petition signed by 71 residents of the Sumas Street-Burnside Road area, asking the city to take steps to prevent mills from allowing cinders to escape their stacks and cover the dust, was received today at the City Hall. The cinder nuisance was becoming increasingly annoying, the petition stated, adding they not only covered the streets and gardens in the neighborhood, but came through open doors and windows to soil the houses.

Highlights of the Gyro district convention which concluded at Yakima, Washington, last night were given by Bill Hudson, Art Minnis and Jamie Cameron, delegates, at the regular luncheon meeting of the club today at the Empress Hotel. Everett Taylor, president, official delegate to the session, had not arrived back in town. Bert Challenor, vice-president, was in the chair. Waldo Skillings, a popular member of the club, received hearty congratulations on the recent birth of a son. Mr. Skillings replied with cigars for all those present.

A copy of an editorial in the Oregon Daily Journal, Portland, expressing that paper's appreciation of the value of the recent mayors' conference here, was forwarded today to Mayor Andrew McGavin, by C. A. Bigelow, commissioner. The article expressed approval of the object of the conference, which was aimed at directing tourist travel northward from the San Francisco Exposition next year. Accompanying the clipping was a letter of thanks from Mr. Bigelow for the courtesies extended to him during his visit here.

Arrangements for the annual picnic of the Victoria Kipling Society were made at a meeting of the executive held at the home of president A. E. G. Cornwell. The picnic will be held at Fairbridge Farm School on Wednesday, August 24. The secretary, T. A. Simmons, has charge of transportation, and buses will leave the Blue Line Coach Depot on Yates Street at 1. The principal of the school, Colonel H. T. Logan, will give a short talk to the picnic party on Fairbridge and the founding of the school. Members of the society and friends are invited to attend.

Fleager Leads Golf Vets

Seattle Golfer Pace Setter in Qualifying Round at Colwood Golf Club with 77; Many Well-known Seniors Playing

Posting a gross score of 77, H. A. "Dixie" Fleager, Seattle, was setting the pace in the qualifying round of the 16th annual Seniors' Northwest Golf Association tournament, which opened at the Colwood Club today. Although a number of veterans had still to turn in their cards, it was not thought Fleager's score would be bettered.

The 16 low gross scorers today qualify for the grand championship, at present held by Bernie Schwengers of Victoria. Schwengers had an 82 today and is certain to qualify. Hon. John Hart, a former champion, toured the course in 85 and should make the select group.

In a tie for second place were H. G. Garrett and J. P. Paret, both from Victoria, and R. S. Farrell, Portland, with scores of 79.

Match play will commence tomorrow and continue until Friday, when the grand champion and the A, B, C and D class title-holders will be decided.

 T. S. McPherson, 90; T. H. Leeming, 91; Miller Freeman, Seattle, 85; C. F. Banfield, 91; W. S. Babson, Portland, 89; G. G. Jones, Portland, 81; H. P. Dudley, 85; J. E. Goldring, 86; R. L. Speed Limit Cuts Toll

Deaths, Persons Injured and Property Damage Shows Decrease in British Columbia.

For the second consecutive month the number of deaths, persons injured and property damage resulting from motor accidents showed a decrease in British Columbia during July, B.C. police announced today.

Traffic authorities declared the enforcement of the 30-mile-an-hour speed limit had been the major cause in reducing the traffic toll and the figures on losses were ample justification for the intensive campaign which has been carried on against reckless driving and speeding this summer.

During July the number of accidents dropped from 511 to 400, or 21.7 per cent. Injuries were reduced by 96 from 312 persons to 216, representing a percentage drop of 30.8.

Fifteen persons were fatally hurt during the month, as against 16 persons in July of last year.

Property damage dropped to $37,069 from $57,565 for a decrease of 35.6 per cent.
Officials pointed out these decreases were the more remarkable since the number of motor vehicle licenses issued to the end of July showed a 3.3 per cent gain over last year. There were 107,255 cars licensed on B.C. roads at the end of last month, as against 103,795 for the same period in 1937.
Traffic losses from the beginning of the year to the end of July, as compared with last year, follow:
No. accidents.	1937	1938
Persons injured.	2,454	2,464
Persons fatally injured.	1,262	1,246
Property damage.	68	58

Salvador Man Likes Victoria

Coffee Grower Says Republic's Problems Like Canada's

"I am here because I like the country. Victoria people are nice people, nicest of all the places I have seen. I have been in the large cities of Canada, like Toronto, Montreal and Quebec, but they are not like Victoria to me."

That, spoken with a fair trace of Spanish accent, is the reason that Alberto G. Parker gives for the fact that he has spent the last month holidaying in Victoria. Mr. Parker was born and lives in the city of Santa Tecla, in the republic of Salvador, in Central America. He grows coffee. He got his name from his grandfather, who was an Englishman. His father was born in Salvador.

Mr. Parker, who is staying at the Dominion Hotel, thinks Canadians do not know enough about his country. From what he had to say of it this morning it seems Salvador's problems are in many ways the same as Canada's.

"The coffee business is not very good, because Brazil has dropped the price. . . . Our coffee crop is like your wheat crop. We have a good government down there. We are a republic, the smallest of the five republics (Salvador, Guatemala, Honduras, Nicaragua and Costa Rica). We had the depression just the same as everyone else did. I don't know how things are at present. My two boys stayed home to run the business, and they don't write any business news. They want me to take a rest. . . . We are satisfied with the way things are really. We have a good government. President Martinez (General Maximiliano Hernandez Martinez, elected in January 1935) is a good man. We would like him to continue, but the constitution will not allow it. He is elected only for a four-year term. . . . Sometimes when things don't go right we have a scrap. . . . The republic of Salvador is not much bigger than Vancouver Island, but it has a population of 1,500,000. It has a standing army of 3,000 men and eight first-line aircraft. . . . For the size of the country it is too many. But we need them," said Mr. Parker. The middleman is the coffee

Safeway-Piggly Wiggly Employees and Friends Spend Day at Deep Cove

One hundred and fifty members, their families and friends of the Safeway-Piggly Wiggly Employees' Association attended the annual picnic of the association held yesterday at The Chalet Grounds, Deep Cove. The picnic was the most successful ever held by the association. A buffet luncheon and sit-down supper was served under the trees. It was a gala day for the picnicers with field sports, swimming races and a softball contest. The Piggly Wiggly team handily defeated the Safeway team and later the MacDonald Consolidated aggregation. The events were run off under the supervision of Fred Noel and George Sturges. George Morgan presented the prizes for the events.

Theft of a purse containing $16 was reported to the city police Saturday night by Marie Ralph, 421 Wilson Street. Miss Ralph said the purse was taken by a thief who reached into a window on the north side of the Crystal Garden to which he climbed with a ladder.

Foresters In Convention Here
 Affiliation With Subsidiary High Court of Canada To Be Discussed
 The possibility of affiliation with the Subsidiary High Court of Canada was slated for discussion this evening or tomorrow morning by delegates attending the annual convention of the Columbia District, Ancient Order of Foresters, at the Foresters' Hall, Cormorant Street.
 The convention began this morning with a short speech of welcome from Mayor Andrew McGavin and may continue through tomorrow morning, although efforts were being made to complete the agenda by this evening.
 A large part of this morning's session was given over to a speech by F. M. Coutts, Winnipeg, High Chief Ranger of the Subsidiary High Court, who explained the court's work—which differs slightly from that of the Columbia District in the matters of insurance benefits and procedure.
 At present the Columbia District has no affiliations in Canada, stemming directly from the 102-year-old order in Britain.
 A committee of the district will meet Mr. Coutts for a further discussion of affiliation.
 The present convention, the 65th of the district, is being attended by some 50 delegates and an equal number of relatives and friends, drawn from all parts of the province.
 The Victoria members were hosts to the visitors at a luncheon in the hall today.
 Election of officers, financial reports and a discussion of ways of advancing the order in the province and adding to its membership were scheduled for this afternoon's session.

FOUND DEAD
VANCOUVER (CP)—An unidentified man was found dead Saturday in a gas-filled room in an east end rooming house.
 A special meeting of the Army and Navy Veterans will be held Thursday evening, at 8, in the clubrooms for the purpose of appointing another delegate to attend the Dominion Command convention to be held in Winnipeg, starting September 19. Following the meeting the unit will be host to members of the visit. As many members as possible are asked to be present. The finance committee of the club will meet tomorrow night at 7.30 and the executive will meet at 8.
 Prizes of $5, $3 and $2 will be offered for the best clowns at the North-Davies picnic. The competition is open to all comers. Everybody is invited to enjoy the fun in watching varied program of sports, acrobats and clowns Wednesday afternoon.

LUMBER IMPORTS

OTTAWA (CP)—Canada's

$288,008 compared with $240,926 in May and $420,639 in the previous June the Bureau of Statistics reported today. Of these, oak to the value of $60,980, white pine $21,684 and yellow pine $21,684 came from the United States.

Paper imports to Canada for June, 1938, were valued at $590, 342 compared with $640,747 in May and $663,354 in June, 1937.
The amount from the United States was $431,032 and from the United Kingdom $94,788.

PLAZA

Use for Old Street Cars

WINDSOR, Ont. — Many of Windsor's old street cars, now replaced by buses, have been sold for placing as summer homes along the St. Clair-Detroit River waterfronts.

KINCARDINE, Ont. — Searching for one of his cows in nearby Kinloss Township, a farmer came upon the animal protecting her two-day-old calf from a pack of eight wolves which ran away when he appeared.

GALT, Ont. — A local man's taste in pets runs to Capuchin monkeys and he has just received two of the South American type from Frank (Bring 'Em Back Alive) Buck, explorer and hunter.

SIMCOE, Ont. — A farmer here does not share the opinion of most farmers that deer are a nuisance. The amount of alfalfa they take does not pay for the entertainment they give, he says.

CLARKSON, Ont. — Ordinary "water divers" use a wand of willow but Almerit Dennison, after making approximately 2,000 successful attempts, sticks to a wand of an apple tree.

STRATFORD, Ont. — Police can wacracrack, too. "Where did you get that hat?" asked a regular patron of traffic court of an officer sporting a white summer
cap. "Why, you boys paid for it," was the retort courteous.

MITCHELL, Ont. — In 1891
Julius Horn, a member of the Grace Lutheran Church here, moved to nearby Monkton but was granted burial rights in Grace churchyard. Forty-seven years later—just recently—he died and took up his rights.

TRENTON, N.J. (AP)—John W.
Mannifield Jr., 21, has a job painting white lines on highways up north drivers to keep the right side of the road. Mannifield was fined $3 in city police court today. The charge? Driving on the wrong side of the road.

O'NEILL, Neb. (AP)—Lyle
Green, 20, went for a spin on his motorcycle to cool off. The machine skidded off the road and Green was knocked unconscious.
He awoke to find the exhaust had started a prairie fire.

COLUMBIA, S.C. — Rounding
Cape Hatteras on a recent voyage, T. B. Taylor opened the port-hole of his cabin boat. As he turned away he heard a flopping sound and beheld an 18-inch flying fish on the sofa.

BELLEVEILLE, Ont. — A Belleville district farmer found a transient the other day who was very willing, but scarcely able. Offered the job of picking corn, the hobo went cheerfully out to the corn patch and started to pull the plants out by the roots.

NORTH PERRY, N.Y. — Relatives of Alfred Leland Kelly, Jr., newborn son of Mr. and Mrs.
Alfred Kelly, considered today his impressive, living family tree —four grandparents, seven great grandparents, one step-great grandparent and a great-great-grandmother—13 in all.

Mystery Show
At Oak Bay

"Mr. Moto's Gamble" Stars Peter Lorre
in Title Role

Currently at the Oak Bay
Theatre, "Mr. Moto's Gamble" stars Peter Lorre in the title role and features Keye Luke, Dick Baldwin, Lynn Bari, Douglas Fowley Jane Regan, Harold Huber and Maxie Rosenbloom in the cast. Directed by James Tinling, with John Stone associate producer, the 20th Century-Fox mystery thriller is an original screen play by Charles Belden and Jerry Cady, based on the character created by J. P. Marquand. The second feature on this program is Warner Brothers' "Sergeant Murphy," starring Ronald Reagan and Mary Maguire.

"Tarzan Escapes"
At Columbia

The biggest circus would blush for shame, and the biggest zoo envy the huge collection of animals used to add thrills in "Tarzan Escapes." Metro-Goldwyn-Mayer's thrilling new jungle adventure romance with Johnny Weissmuller and Maureen O'Sullivan, now being shown at the Columbia.

From roaring lions to the hippopotamus, every animal ever seen in a circus menagerie is seen as an actor in the new picture—and many more.

Hollywood animal raisers, zoos and circuses were called upon,
and in addition many animals,
such as the Malayan sun-bear, were specially imported for the production.

Duplessis Urges
More Autonomy

ST. THOMAS, Ont. (CP)—

Premier Maurice Duplessis of Quebec, a guest at Premier Hepburn's 42nd birthday celebration at his farm home near here, said last week the provinces must have "more autonomy or there cannot be unity in Canada."

"The individual members of a nation must be given their rights or there can be no nation," Mr. Duplessis declared. He felt the provinces had to be given their rightful place in the field of taxation.

Both premiers insisted there was no political significance to their meeting—that it was "just a birthday party."

Questioned regarding Premier Hepburn's announcement Thursday that Ontario was withdrawing from further discussions of the Rowell Commission, on Dominion-provincial Relations, Mr.
Duplessis said: "Quebec took the proper stand on the commission months ago and I have nothing to add."

(Quebec declined to recognize

Skeleton Found
At Whitby, Ont.

WHITBY, Ont. (CP)—Acting Chief Constable John Thomas said Saturday a skeleton found in a shallow grave on the outskirts of Whitby might be that of Ambrose J. Small, Toronto theatre owner who disappeared
December 2, 1919, and whose disappearance remains unsolved.

The skeleton, found by three boys two and a half feet under the surface of the ground, was sent to Toronto for examination by Dr. E. R. Frankish, medico-legal expert of the Ontario attorney-general's department.

Authorities emphasized there were no grounds for believing the skeleton was that of Small and that in mentioning the Small case they only were expressing a theory.

Talented Actor
In Plaza Film

Robert Douglas Starred in British Picture
"Look Out for Love"

Apart from a minor film role some years ago, undertaken more out of curiosity than anything else, Robert Douglas, handsome and talented young stage actor, has hitherto been lost to the screen.

Now filmgoers will have an opportunity of seeing him in his first big British picture, "Look Out for Love," now at the Plaza Theatre, in which he plays with Anna Neagle and Tullio Carminati.

To Herbert Wilcox must be given the credit of this discovery, for he it was who finally succeeded in persuading this brilliant young actor to forsake his first love—the theatre. He is good-looking, virile and accomplished, and knows his job thoroughly, having made, at the age of nineteen, a remarkable stage debut in "Many Waters," from which day he has never looked back.

Taylor, Tone and Young
Are Rehabilitated
in Remarque Epic

They shot Robert Young, but he was such a tough hombre that it took 16 shots to do it.

Witnesses to the "assassination" included Robert Taylor,
Margaret Sullivan, Franchot Tone, the postmaster-general of Japan, the head of Canada's large-est film firm, an Episcopal bishop and two hundred other bystanders.

The dramatic scene was filmed in the village erected for "Three Comrades," filmization of the noted Erich Maria Remarque novel, which opens today at the Atlas Theatre.

In the story of early post-war days in Europe, Taylor, Tone and Young are three young war veterans who cling together in their struggle to rehabilitate themselves in a troubled world.

Capitol to Screen
"Professor Beware"

Harold Lloyd returns to the screen in the new comedy that opens tomorrow at the Capitol Theatre, "Professor Beware." He introduces a new leading lady, as has been his custom in years past with each new film, in the person of Phyllis Welch, lovely young graduate of the legitimate stage and radio stations.

story, deals with a mad dash across the continent to catch a boat sailing to Egypt.

Police Search Missing Youths

Mainland Boys, in Frail Fishing Craft in Gulf, Unreported Since June 21

VANCOUVER (CP)—The Gulf of Georgia between Hornby and Texada islands was the scene today of a search by British Columbia Police for two Vancouver youths unreported since June 21 in a frail fishing craft.

The boys, John Clee, 21, and his brother, Donald, 18, left Vancouver June 15 to spend the summer fishing for salmon. Their last letter home in which they said they intended returning if fishing conditions did not improve, was dated from Bowser June 21.

Worried by the boys' continued silence, their mother, Mrs. M. L. Clee, asked police to search for the pair.

Japanese Raid Over Canton

Waterfront Refugees Leap Into River to Escape Bombing From Air

CANTON, China (AP)—A deluge of shrapnel and anti-aircraft shell fragments during a Japanese air raid today caused scores of waterfront refugees to leap into the river opposite the international settlement on Shamien Island. It was believed all were rescued by small boats.

The Japanese attack was directed at the Wongshia section of the city, wrecked in previous bombings and which was almost deserted.

GAINS NEGLIGIBLE

SHANGHAI (AP)—A survey of the Yangtze River front showed today that Japanese gains have been almost negligible since the capture of Kiukiang July 25, despite bitter fighting on both sides of the river and heavy aerial bombardments.

A Japanese column which struck southward from Kiukiang along the Nanchang railway 21 days ago has advanced only 12 miles and is now engaged in conflict with strongly entrenched Chinese troops in the hills near Shaochen.

Another Japanese force operating south of the Yangtze has advanced 25 miles from Kiukiang, but is meeting desperate resistance on the shores of Red Lake and in the hills before Julichang.

Japanese army reports said the fall of Julichang was imminent, but military observers said capture of the town would leave the invaders a difficult advance of 85 miles to their goal, the Canton-Hankow railway, which they hope to cut south of the provisional capital.

Trade Treaty In Final Phase

Financial Times Comments on Length of British-U.S. Negotiations

LONDON (CP-Havas)—Discussing the projected Anglo-American trade pact, the Financial Times today said editorially that "the best that can be hoped for is that we shall have a treaty before the middle of next month."

"It is now nearly nine months since Prime Minister Chamberlain announced that negotiations for a trade agreement with the United States were reaching the final phase," and six months since the British delegation set out for Washington," the newspaper remarked.

"Reports concerning the progress of negotiations are conflicting though increasingly optimistic, although Daniel Roper, Secretary of Commerce, who returned to the United States from this country a day or two ago, gave the impression that there was still disagreement on some matters of detail. However this may be, it is hardly a matter for surprise that negotiations have taken considerably longer than has been expected."

"There was a natural tendency at first to underestimate the complexity of the problem with which the delegations had to deal. It is salutary to remember that two-fifths of the entire trade of the world had to be re-examined and readjusted, for the interests of the British Dominions and colonies are directly involved."

"At the same time the British government has had to obtain from the Dominions their approval for modification of their position under the Ottawa agreements and way had to be prepared for separate treaties between the Dominions and the United States."

"Finally, while talks have been

Wheat Traders Appear Nervous

WINNIPEG (CP)—Possibility of the United States government subsidizing wheat exports provided the Winnipeg Grain Market with a major bearish factor today, with all options here and in Chicago slumping to new lows.

At the close prices were 2½ to 2½ lower, with October at 67½, November 67½, December 67½ to 66, and May 68½ cents. Offsetting this factor were precipitous rises in Western Canada that would delay harvesting and uneasiness in the Far East.

The session was featured by nervousness on the part of traders, although it was generally dull. No export business of consequence was confirmed. Scattered selling appeared.

Liverpool closed ¼ to ¼ lower in a dull session. Buenos Aires was on holiday and American markets ruled about a cent lower.

Slow demand marked wheat operations with spreads on top northern grades generally unchanged.

Pit trade in coarse grains also was quiet with some scattered liquidation appearing in barley and oats.

World wheat shipments for the week totaled 12,268,000 bushels, of which North America contributed 4,195,000 bushels.

CHICAGO (AP)—Estimates indicating Canada's 1938 crop would total nearly double that of last year did much today to pull Chicago wheat values down 1½ cents. Five-year low-price records were again eclipsed.

Canadian estimates ranged from 340,000,000 to 350,000,000 bushels, against 163,721,000 bushels harvested in 1937. In addition Australia's 1938 crop probable average was estimated at 14,179,000 acres against 13,807,000 the previous season.

At the close, Chicago wheat futures were 1½ to 1½ cents lower compared with yesterday's finish, September 60½ to 60½, December 62½ to 62½, corn ½ to ½ down, September 50½ to 50½, December 47½ to 47½, and oats ¼ to ¼ off.

A "Lost City" in Cambodia

1—ANGKOR THOM
This week let's take a long journey across the sea—to a place near the border of Siam. Howard Hughes did not stop there on his round-the-world trip, and neither did Willy Post. The place of which I am thinking would have been out of their way—it is only 14 degrees of latitude north of the equator.

"Stair of Honor" on west side of temple at Angkor.

Cambodia! That is the name of the region, and Angkor-Thom is the name of the great city which used to exist in it. What a city it was, and what a temple was reared near its edge.

Steaming over the Pacific, we most likely would get off our ocean liner at Hongkong. Then we could take a smaller boat down the South China sea and land near the southern end of French Indo-China, an important colony in the French Empire.

To reach Cambodia, we could go by river boat up the Mekong, or we could use an automobile. Roads have been laid down in recent years, and it is now possible to motor to the ruined city in a day.

The name "Ankor Thom" is believed to mean "Grand Capital City." A thousand years ago, it was one of the great cities of Asia. For hundreds of years, it was a centre of power, the home of Cambodia's kings. Then it was deserted and the jungles closed in around it.

Just why it was deserted, we do not know. The people who lived there may have been visited by a terrible plague, or there may have been some other reason why it came to be lost. At any rate it disappeared from the pages of history close to five centuries ago.

In 1858 a French scientist named Mouhot set out to explore the jungles north of the Gulf of Siam.

After reaching Cambodia, he hired brown-skinned natives to go with him up a river aboard a sampan. During the journey, the Frenchman heard strange tales.

"There are dead cities in the jungles of a broad valley," he was told. "They were built by giants. We have not seen them, but we have learned about them from other people. There are high walls and great towers."

Mouhot wondered whether or not the natives were telling the truth.

HOROSCOPE

Tuesday, August 16, 1938
Benefic aspects dominate today, according to astrology. The planetary government favors property adjustments, especially where older relatives are concerned.

In the early morning the mind should be clear and keen. The first consideration of the day should be directed toward possible stability and security in financial matters.

While there is a promising sign for those who seek employment, labor troubles may interfere with industries usually not affected by strikes.

Both men and women whose ambitions have been rewarded are most fortunate while this rule prevails. The stars seem to presage protection for well-established persons.

Governors, mayors and others who exercise authority will be fortunate today in sustaining popularity in hard-earned positions.

This is not an auspicious date for the signing of legal papers. Business or government contracts should be postponed before final agreements are made.

The evening is a happy time for meetings, banquets and conferences. Leaders will be well directed by the planets which encourage speech making.

Persons whose birthdate it is have the augury of a year of favorable business associations. They should beware of hasty letterwriting.

Children born on this day probably will be sensitive and intuitive. Subjects of this sign may be distinguished by mental poise and sound judgment.

The starchy chestnut is the only popular nut that is not rich in fat.

Dorothy Dix's Letter Box

DEAR DOROTHY DIX—I am a girl of 17, still in school. My parents are making me take a commercial course, which I don't like, because they think it is wonderful for a girl to be a stenographer. What I want to be is a hairdresser. I love to set hair and I am very clever at doing it. My ambition is to own my own shop. I am behind at school because I don't like to study and don't understand the work of a stenographer. Do you think I should be what my parents want me to be, or should I persuade them into sending me to a hairdressers' school? A WORRIED GIRL.

Answer: Your parents are making a great mistake in trying to force you into doing something for which you have no aptitude and in which you will never succeed. Many fathers and mothers feel that they have a right to pick out their children's life work for them and this is why we have so many failures. Square pegs that never fit into round holes.

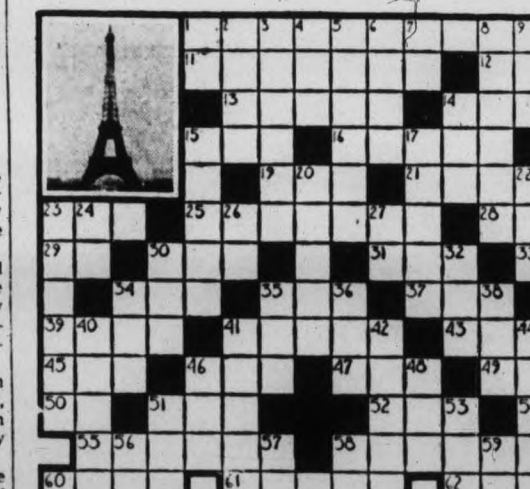

We never do anything well that we don't enjoy doing for its own sake. Your choice, anyway, is a much wiser one than your parents', for there is a limit to the demand for even the best stenographers, whereas every woman in the world wants a permanent or a water wave or what have you, and she will spend the last dollar she has for it.

The beauty shop has opened one of the best avenues to making a livelihood that any girl can enter. If she is a good operator, she can always get a well-paying job and look forward to owning her own shop eventually.

DEAR MISS DIX—I think children should love their mothers more than they do their fathers because their mothers do more for them. My husband is crazy about our little boy and loves to play with him and take him around with him, but that's all. It is I who have to get up in the night and give him a drink, nurse him when he is sick, wash his face and keep him clean. Fathers like to amuse themselves with their children. It is the mothers who have to slave for them. What do you think? MOTHER.

Answer: I think parenthood is about a 50-50 job. For if the mother gives the child her personal attention, the father toils to support it and denies himself many pleasures that he would like to have to indulge his youngster.

DOROTHY DIX.

Around the Docks

The waterfront will greet a new ship this evening when Ms. Lady Glanely arrives at Ogden Point to load a parcel of lumber for the United Kingdom.

The new vessel is named after the wife of the first Baron Glanely, one of her owners. Lord Glanely is chairman of the Tatem Steam Navigation Company and the Atlantic Shipping and Trading Company.

Jugoslavian freighter Carica Milica, which will take lumber for the British Isles, arrived at Ogden Point just before noon today to King Brothers.

Ss. Princess Victoria will carry an excursion from Vancouver to Victoria tomorrow, giving her passengers the afternoon in this city. Many prairie people, visiting Vancouver, are expected to make the trip.

British freighter Darlington Court, Capt. Robert Rooks, arrived at the ocean piers yesterday morning from eastern Canadian ports, in service for the Vancouver-St. Lawrence Line. She had 250 tons for this port and commenced discharging this morning, being due to proceed to Vancouver this evening.

Ss. Uffington Court will take the September sailing from Montreal for Victoria and Vancouver in this service. She will arrive here in mid-October.

Five-masted schooner Vigilant, last of the United States light ships on the Pacific, is expected to get away from Port Alberni, where she is now loading lumber, for the Hawaiian Islands in a day or two. Capt. Charles Melberg, her veteran skipper, will be in command. She is taking the first lumber to Hawaii from British Columbia in many years.

Vigilant will be towed down the Alberni Canal to the mouth of Barclay Sound. There she will set her sails and head for the mid-Pacific islands.

The ancient philosophers taught that all the nourishment of plants is derived from the soil, and even today it is hard to realize that our giant trees, towering high into the air, have derived their bulk from the carbon floating unseen in the atmosphere.

In Berlin, 596 persons died of diabetes from December 29, 1935, to August 29, 1936.

Ss. Queen Mary New Sea Queen

DOWN THE GANGWAY
LONDON (AP)—The giant British liner Queen Mary captured the Atlantic blue ribbon from the French liner Normandie yesterday when she added the fastest eastward ocean crossing to her newly-established west-bound record.

Cunard White Star officials announced the Queen Mary steamed past Bishop's Rock, Scilly Islands, at 1:42 p.m., Greenwich mean time, completing the 2,938 miles from Ambrose Light at New York in three days 20 hours and 42 minutes at an average speed of 31.69 knots.

It was a record-smashing round trip for the big liner, which on its westward crossing bettered by one hour and 14 minutes the westward record formerly held by the Normandie, her blue pennant rival of the last two years.

Going over, the Queen Mary passed Ambrose Light at 1:32 a.m., August 9, completing the trip in three days 21 hours and 48 minutes, averaging 30.99 knots for the 2,907-mile trip.

On the return eastward, the Queen Mary clipped one hour and 25 minutes from the record of three days 22 hours and seven minutes set by the Normandie with an average speed of 31.30 knots, August 8, 1937.

The British liner left Ambrose Light at 3:04 p.m. G.M.T. (8:04 a.m. M.S.T.) last Wednesday on her record eastward run. Engineers aboard watched closely every phase of the racing bid with the view to making final decisions on machinery to be installed in the Queen Elizabeth, sister ship of the Queen Mary, now being built on the River Clyde.

Officials said there was no attempt to beat the Normandie's record and that the voyage was accelerated for the sake of the ship's time table.

It was understood in shipping circles that improvements were made secretly on the Queen Mary during the week she was in dock immediately preceding her westward voyage. Nature of the changes, however, was not disclosed.

ENGINEER SAD, REVIEWS PAST

Chief of Ss. President Jefferson Says His Ship Now in the Boneyard

SEATTLE — Extremely sad these days is Harry E. March, former chief engineer of the retired American Mail liner President Jefferson, which, with other ships of the fleet is tied up in northwest waters because of lack of government subsidy. She completed her last trip to the Orient under the Dollar flag last week.

Mr. March is now the President Jefferson's watchman and he will remain aboard her as she lies idle at a dock in Tacoma.

"I am not trying to hide the fact that retirement of the President Jefferson from service makes me feel sad," he said. "We're in the boneyard now."

Mr. March, whose first seafaring experience was in the sealing schooner City of San Diego, operating out of Victoria, B.C., to Japan at the turn of the century, recalled that the President Jefferson made 100 trips to the Orient and that he was chief engineer on 97 of them, that she logged 1,344,200 miles and carried such notables as Col. and Mrs. Charles Lindbergh home from the Orient and vice-president and Mrs. John Nance Garner back from Manila.

The President Jefferson was the Wenatchee when Mr. March joined her. She inaugurated the American Mail Line service and also closed it last week.

He recalled also that she was in Yokohama harbor September 1, 1923, at the time of the great earthquake and that she was a rescue ship for hundreds and carried the first American refugees across the Pacific to Victoria, B.C., and Seattle.

The ship has had five commanders, Mr. March said. They were Capt. H. C. Thomas, who died in Manila in 1922; Capt. F. R. Nichols, Capt. Alvin O. Lustie and Capt. John Griffiths.

"I can't believe the President Jefferson has made her last voyage," he said, "but orders have sent us to the boneyard. Only time will tell what will happen."

William Henry Harrison and John Tyler, who succeeded him as President of the United States, were born in the same county: Charles City County, Virginia.
